B. C. FISHERIES ARE CONSIDERED

Conference at Ottawa of Minister, Members and Officials Deals With Various Phases of Subject

LICENSE FARMING WILL BE STOPPED

Prairie Members Concerned with Wheat Grade of "Number One Hard"—Further Increase in Dominion Revenue

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—A conference took place today in Hon. Mr. Hazen's office regarding B. C. Fisheries. Among those present were Mr. Burrell and other B. C. members, D. N. McIntyre, deputy fisheries commissioner of the province, Mr. Cunningham, the Dominion fisheries officer for the province, Superintendent Found, of the fisheries department in Ottawa, and others.

J. D. Taylor made strong representations that under the present regulations the cannerymen on the Fraser can bring in scow loads of fish from the American traps when the catch exceeds the capacity of the American canneries at Bellingham, and that they would then summarily turn away fish caught by Canadian fishermen, whereas Canadian fishermen may not export their fish.

Mr. Taylor also explained that the system of boat ratings practically gives the canneries complete control of the fishing, as the licenses are all sold to the canneries and only issued by them to men who will fish for one particular cannery. The control thus established largely accounts for the change from whites to Japanese.

Hon. Mr. Hazen's comment was that such regulations made men the serfs of the canneries.

It was agreed that the issue of licenses for purse and drag seines will not be delayed.

The two departments—provincial and Dominion—are in conference as to what licenses shall be granted. It is agreed that the farming of licenses is to be stopped. Absolutely no license will be issued except to bona fide fishermen.

Number One Hard

At the opening of the house today, Mr. Proulx brought up the complaint of the farmers of the Ottawa valley that they cannot secure cars for their hay crop. Minister Cochrane said that he would be glad to submit any complaints to the Railway Commission.

Mr. Lemieux drew attention to the reports that a re-survey of the international boundary in the west showed that a strip of about two miles wide containing two towns which hitherto has been regarded as American territory, properly is a part of British Columbia.

Premier Borden said he had heard nothing of the matter, but would inquire into it.

The house spent the afternoon in committee on the grain bill, the principal item being the proposal to change "Manitoba number one hard" into "Canada number one hard."

The Manitoba members objected, Dr. Schaffner proposing "Canada Western," and Mr. Oliver suggesting "Prairie." Hon. Mr. Rogers and other Manitoba members supported the present name. Finally the matter was adjourned.

The evening was spent in supply on Ontario public works.

Dominion Revenue

The revenue for January, 1912, was $10,084,035, as compared with $9,144,857 in January, 1911. This shows an increase of $939,161, or over ten per cent. For the ten months period the revenue has been $109,066,983, as against $94,810,707, an increase of $14,156,275, or over 15 per cent. The expenditure on consolidated fund account was $16,351,716 for the month and $70,655,588 in ten months. The corresponding figures for 1911 were $12,453,630 and $65,447,768. The capital account expenditure was $5,640,718 in January and $24,624,073 for the whole period, as against $3,073,181 and $25,877,478 respectively in 1911. Practically all of the expenditure this year has been on public works and railways.

NAVAL STRENGTH

Mr. Winston Churchill in Speech at Glasgow Refers to British and German Armaments

GLASGOW, Scotland, Feb. 9.—Winston Spencer Churchill, the First Lord of the Admiralty, attended a luncheon arranged by the Clyde Navigation Trust and in a speech painted a roseate picture of the preparedness of the British navy to meet all eventualities. Mr. Churchill spoke at some length on the subject of German and British sea rivalry, taking the view that while naval power was necessary to the existence of Great Britain, it was a luxury for Germany.

Touching on the subject of the representative naval increase in the two countries, Mr. Churchill said there was no need for excitement or panic. Great Britain had the situation well in hand and there was no chance whatever of her being ever taken in by naval strength.

Agricultural Education

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—A plan for extending the agricultural education of farmer boys and girls attending rural schools during vacation was unfolded at the closing session of the Canadian seed growers' association today, and will be looked into.

Norwegian Ministers Resign

CHRISTIANIA, Feb. 9.—The resignations yesterday of the ministers of foreign affairs, justice, commerce, defense and cults and public instruction was due to their opposition to the movement to make the peasant dialect Norway's literary language.

FIRE PROTECTION SECTIONS OF ACT

Desultory Discussion on Forest Bill Which is Still in Committee—Maintenance of Ross Bay Cemetery

Mr. Hawthornthwaite did not get his resolution on Vancouver labor troubles before the house yesterday after all. Instead, to the disappointment of a crowded gallery of sympathizers, he announced that at the request of the premier he would ask that it stand over. Once more nearly the whole sitting was occupied in reading the clauses of the Forest act in committee, Mr. Tisdall taking the chair in the absence of Mr. Shatford. There was a considerable amount of rather desultory discussion between Hon. Mr. Ross and Hon. Mr. McPhillips on the government side, and Mr. Brewster and Mr. Williams on the opposition side, over the penal clauses of the portion relating to forest fires. The latter attacked the section placing the onus of proof on the person accused of starting a fire. The minister of lands replied that it worked out well in practice and intimated that it would be retained, but promised to repeal the clause giving half the fine as a reward to an informer. The reading of the bill is still unfinished.

Mr. Hayward introduced a bill respecting employment agencies. It provides that the keeper of an employment agency shall be obliged to take out a license embodying certain regulations. The superintendent of provincial police shall have power to refuse such license, though appeal against his decision may be made to the attorney-general. The lieutenant governor in council may fix the scale of fees to be charged by these agents. The initial fee for license is fixed at $2.50 and $1 a year afterwards.

Mr. Shaw also introduced his amendment to the Veterinary act of which an analysis has already been given. It provides for stricter registration of veterinary surgeons.

Two private bills were given second reading. An act respecting the city of Victoria was moved by Mr. Thomson, and on motion of Mr. Millar a second bill for the relief of the city of Fernie was also given second reading.

Provisions for Fire Fighting

After introductory business had been disposed of the house again went into committee on the Forest act with Mr. Tisdall in the chair. Mr. Williams again took exception to the provisions for fire fighting. He said it seemed to him that under this act if a man got a permit and started a fire on his place, and it got away from him he would have to pay the whole cost of putting it out. If a fire started and he had no permit, the government would have to pay half the cost. It seemed to him that the man would be better off who did not take out a permit at all. At least that was the position he would take.

Hon. Mr. Ross said it was the old system. The average settler was not so astute as the member for Newcastle. Most people were anxious to avoid fires and took out permits.

Mr. Williams said that when regulations were oppressive he would take whatever means would serve his purpose best, and he believed that that was the position of the average settler.

Hon. Mr. Ross said that if they could discover the person who started a fire he would certainly get no assistance, but would be punished instead.

AGREEING TO MODIFICATIONS

Yuan Shi Kai, After Consultation with Dowager Empress, Accepts Most of Proposals from Republicans

REPRESENTATIVE SAYS ABDICATION CERTAIN

Some Difficulty Over Selection of Future Capital—Reported American Loan to Nanking Government

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The Times says the news has been received in London that Premier Yuan Shi Kai, after having consulted with the dowager empress, has agreed to most of the modifications made by the Nanking government to Yuan's proposals for the abdication of the emperor.

Loan for Republic

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The newspapers in Peking report that Willard Straight, acting on behalf of an American group of financiers, is concluding the details for a $5,000,000 loan to the revolutionists in Nanking, taking as security therefor the Canton-Hankow railway, says a despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Peking.

Sure of Abdication

SHANGHAI, Feb. 9.—Tang Shao Yi, the representative of Premier Yuan Shi Kai, today declared that he was confident that the abdication of the throne would be an accomplished fact before February 18. There appears to be less confidence now than there hitherto has been that Yuan Shi Kai will be selected for the presidency of the republic. On the other hand the name of General Li Yuen Heng, the present vice-president, is mentioned, and it is possible that he may be eventually selected.

The draft of the proposed Magna Charta of the new Chinese republic has been completed by Dr. Wu Ting Fang, the minister of justice in the republican cabinet, and now awaits the approval of the senate. The document provides for a provisional term of five years, but the senate probably will make his term only one year. It is thought that a compromise may be reached on the question of the future capital of China. President

THREE MONTHS' IMPRISONMENT

Sentence on Vancouver Man Charged with Obstructing Police at Recent "Free Speech" Demonstration

JUDGE'S REMARKS ARE SIGNIFICANT

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 9.—"When the police are discharging their duty they will receive the support and protection of the courts. Persons who interfere with them or obstruct them in the discharge of their duties will do so at their peril, and will place themselves in the position of committing a serious offence, meriting a severe sentence. I will take into consideration the fact that the accused's misconduct occurred at one of the first of the recent disturbances in the city, and that he did not appreciate the nature of it. I will also take into consideration his good record and character as testified to. The sentence will be three months' imprisonment with hard labor."

In the county criminal court Judge McInnes this afternoon pronounced sentence upon George Nicholls, who was found guilty on the charge of obstructing the police, after a force under Sergeant McRae had ordered an assemblage gathered at the corner of Carrall and Cordova streets on the evening of January 20 to disperse.

Nicholls declared that he had not cried out after Sergeant McRae had commanded the crowd to disperse: "We'll put all the other speakers on the box." Several witnesses he called said they had not heard him make this remark, but the police swore positively that such words had been used by accused.

The Earl of Chesterfield and the Earl of Granard are mentioned as possible successors of Earl Spencer.

ENFORCEMENT OF LIQUOR LAW

Attorney-General to Bring in Amending Bill—Fewer Licenses in 1911 Than in Previous Year

The appearance on the legislative order paper of notice by Attorney-General Bowser of his intention to amend the Provincial Liquor Act of 1910, and the announced early conferences with the law officer of the crown of deputations representative of the Good Government and Local Option Leagues, directs attention insistently to the manner in which the admittedly drastic British Columbia law for the regulation and control of the liquor traffic is being administered. Criticism and complaints of non-enforcement are of course inevitable, but in this connection it is interesting and instructive to note that the great majority of such casual indictments—made as a rule on hearsay evidence—are based upon offences allegedly occurring within the boundaries of city or rural municipalities, wherein the administration of the law is vested altogether with the local authorities.

And although the population within such incorporated municipalities represents quite 85 per cent. of the provincial total, it is an illuminative fact that a greater number of prosecutions and convictions for offences under the act were conducted during the past year in the unorganized districts—the territory of the 15 per cent. of population—under the direct jurisdiction and supervision of the provincial police, than in the cities and rural municipalities.

And not only have the police under Attorney-General Bowser's direction and control been active in suppression and punishment of such offences under the act as Sunday or other prohibited liquor trafficking, but they have been equally energetic and insistent upon the standard of roadhouse or country hotel accommodation for the traveling public fully measuring up to the requirements of the law—a fact that is emphasized in the refusal of the chief license inspector to grant renewals of licenses for more than a probational period of three months in a very large proportion of applications dealt with at the close of 1911.

In Environs of Victoria

In a majority of cases the reason is non-compliance with the requirements of the law as to the standard and extent of bona fide hotel accommodation, in guest rooms, dining rooms, stabling for horses, etc. In other cases (and this applies particularly to roadhouses within the environs of Victoria), the department has general knowledge of offences having been common, as in selling liquors to minors—girl members of after dark "joy riding parties" and others—to chauffeurs and to interdicts; permitting interdicts to frequent licensed premises; allowing the licensed premises to be used for improper purposes, etc.

Where such offences are known of, but without conclusive proof, or in other words suspected with substantial reason, the houses concerned are now under special surveillance. If causes of offence are promptly removed and do not recur, the licensees will in due time secure the renewals desired. If not, the licenses affected will be cancelled. At the present juncture, of all the roadside hotels on highways out of Victoria towards Sooke river, Metchosin, the Malahat Drive and Nanai-

ITALIANS STILL HAVE DIFFICULTY

Turks and Arabs Command So Much of Tripolitan Coast That Operations of Invaders are Greatly Hampered

CRUISER BOMBARDS SEVEN SMALL PORTS

Commanders Prepare for Further Action—Italy Threatens to Break Away from Peace Union at Brussels

TRIPOLI, Feb. 9.—The coasts of Tripoli and Cyrenaica still are commanded by the Turks and their Arab allies to such an extent that Italian action is greatly restricted. The Italian cruiser Cytta di Catania, which returned here today, reports that she bombarded seven small ports and Turkish camps near the shore, and that large numbers of armed Arabs were observed.

At Misrata, about 150 miles east of here, the Arabs erecte two small forts in which they took refuge during the bombardment. They also made shelters out of sand.

Peace Union Disruption

ROME, Feb. 9.—The meeting of the inter-parliamentary peace union at Brussels tomorrow is regarded here as highly important, owing to the decision of the Italian group not to participate and to sever connection with the union if the meeting insists on discussing and condemning the action of the Italian government in conflict with Turkey.

The Italians wish the peace union to acknowledge that those delegates who in one way or another at the sitting of the union in October, 1911, or later, entered into a discussion of the merits of the war between Italy and Turkey exceeded the object of the union.

Second Officer Missing

MANY KILLED BY GIANT BLAST

Premature Discharge Causes Explosion of Powder Set in 64 Holes at Construction Work on Rainy Lake

THIRTEEN DEAD AND SEVERAL MISSING

FORT FRANCIS, Ont Feb. 9—A terrific explosion took place about noon today at the construction works of Johnson and Carney's camp, on an island in Rainy lake, eight miles from here, when 13 men were killed outright and six injured. There are still some of the men unaccounted for.

The cause of the explosion was a premature discharge of one of the holes charged with dynamite. A gang of men under Foreman Thomas Casey had sunk 64 holes at a uniform depth of 22 feet. One of the charges in the holes was not properly prepared, and it was while this charge was being taken out that it was set off, the concussion immediately causing the other sixty-three charges to explode.

The men were hurled into the air with tons of rock and debris. So great was the explosion that large pieces of rock half the size of a small house were upheaved, while the foreman, who must have been standing over one of the holes was blown into the air for 150 feet, his body landing near the Canadian Northern railway line with both legs blown off, and terribly disfigured. The other men were badly bruised and in some cases almost every bone was broken in their bodies.

Dynamite Conspiracy

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 9.—"No developments in the dynamiting conspiracy cases may be expected early next week," said U. S. District Attorney Miller today in discussing the plan for the arrest of the 40 or more men under indictment, but whose names are being withheld. "No arrests will be attempted in individual cases unless it is arranged to take all the indicted men into custody on one day." Mr. Miller said the amount of bond each defendant would be required to furnish for appearance here on March 12 would not be disclosed until after the arrests.

FOR ESPIONAGE

Heinrich Grosse, German Merchant, Gets Sentence of Three Years at Winchester

WINCHESTER, England, Feb. 9.—Heinrich Grosse, a German merchant, who was arrested here on a charge of espionage, was sentenced today at the assizes to three years penal servitude.

The trial presented a striking contrast to German methods in espionage cases, especially in the trial of Bertrand Stewart, the English lawyer, recently sentenced by the Leipsic imperial court to three years' imprisonment.

Grosse was tried in open court by a jury. He pleaded not guilty. He testified that he was the son of a German judge, and came to England in order to do business in German coal in the event of a national strike in England.

The evidence showed that Grosse tried to get information as to the armament of submarine vessels, the specifications as to arming merchant ships in event of war, the extent of naval coal reserves and other matters valuable to an enemy.

C. P. R. SCHEME HAS OPPOSITION

Proposed Route Map for Branch Line on North Side of Burrard Inlet is Discussed Before Minister

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—Hon. F. Cochrane, minister of railways and canals, today heard arguments on the proposed route map in North Vancouver. In the end the matter stood over, the minister intimating that rights of municipalities must be protected.

Mr. Stevens is still making strong representations to Mr. Cochrane.

Control of Waterfront

At the outset Mr. Stevens protested against approval unless the rights of the people in the districts affected were respected. In case a harbor commission is formed, he argued, provision should be made for the control of the railway distributing system by the commissioners, including the north shore. Any such commission should have the right to take over and control all the railways on the waterfront. He further contended that the C.P.R. should connect with the second Narrows bridge, that all railways entering the city should have running rights over this line in North Vancouver guaranteed them, that street ends should be protected, that construction be commenced in six months and the line should be in operation in two years.

Mayor McNeish and Mr. Sheppard, clerk of North Vancouver, and Reeve May, of North Vancouver district, advocated the building of the railway along with the Burrard inlet lines, but desired the protection of the waterfront and that streets giving access to the waterfront be not closed.

Clive Pringle of Ottawa on behalf of the Bridge and Tunnel company, stated that the location for the bridge had been approved by the railway commission.

Agreement Cited

Alex Smith, Ottawa, and William McNeill, Vancouver, representing the V. W. & Y. Railway said that the department of railways had on file the agreement showing that the Burrard inlet Tunnel and Bridge company, the V. W. & Y. Railway and the municipalities concerned had joined forces to build a bridge across the inlet. The approval of the proposed route map would enable the C.P.R. to interfere with this.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane took the ground that he would approve the location with the stipulation that the rights of the municipalites along the waterfront be protected. He also stated that the first company to build should grant running rights to other companies.

Mr. Stevens is renewing his protest to the minister, the question being left over for the time.

MAY DETERMINE FATEFUL ISSUE

Much Importance is Attached to Lord Haldane's Mission in Germany by Observers in Great Britain

ASSOCIATED WITH CHANCELLOR'S SPEECH

Utterances of Mr. Churchill at Glasgow Are Also Connected with Visit—Entertained by Emperor

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Whether the overture for the visit to Berlin of the British Secretary for War, Viscount Haldane, originated in England or in Germany, is disputed, but it is impossible longer to disguise the momentous character of the mission. There are those who believe that the issue of war or peace depends on its success or failure.

The visit of Viscount Haldane is largely associated in the public mind with the speech of David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, at the City of London Liberal Club, on Feb. 3, in which the chancellor said the moment was auspicious for a discussion of a reduction in armaments, which was considered as an effort looking to the conciliation of Germany. At present, however, it is impossible to define the subject of the mission of Viscount Haldane.

Political activity is not confined to Berlin. Mr. Lloyd George had an audience with King George today, and the King's secretary, Lord Knollys, was busy between Buckingham palace, the foreign office and the residence of Premier Asquith.

According to some newspapers, colonial questions and the possible cession to Germany of Walfish Bay, on the Southwest coast of Africa, are under consideration.

The Daily Telegraph undestands that Viscount Haldane will not discuss specific proposals for a reduction in armaments, and that nothing is likely to result from his visit except the creation of an atmosphere favorable to the cultivation of more amicable relations between Great Britain and Germany.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The morning newspapers connect Winston Spencer Churchill's speech at Glasgow with the mission of Viscount Haldane to Germany, and consider the address of the First Lord of the Admiralty and the visit of the War Minister to Berlin as not a mere coincidence. The Conservative papers are pleased with Mr. Churchill's patriotic tone, while the radical organs think it was ill-advised, at such a critical moment, to flourish Great Britain's naval supremacy.

Guest of Emperor

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The German Emperor and Empress today gave luncheon at the imperial palace in honor of Viscount Haldane, the British secretary of war. Among those invited to meet Viscount Haldane were Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor; Admiral Alfred von Tirpitz, minister of marine and General Josiah von Heringen, minister of war. Lord Haldane's visit to Germany is to relieve the tension which has effected Anglo-German relations for some time past.

Nothing definite as to the nature of the discussions between the British statesman and his German confreres have been made known.

For World-Wide Entente

LONDON, Feb. 10.—The British government inquired of the Berlin government last December, according to the Daily News, whether Germany was willing to arrange a world-wide entente. Germany, the papers say, welcomed the proposals. The negotiations have continued since that time, and Viscount Haldane's visit to Berlin marks a crucial point in the discussion.

REAL ESTATE IS MOVING RAPIDLY

Investors from Outside Represented in Recent Transactions—Waterfront Property Particularly Active

With the influx of a large number of investors from outside points, particularly from the prairie provinces, and the general conviction that a period of great activity for the island and Victoria is about to set in, the real estate market is showing much activity. Transactions of more or less importance and significance are of daily occurrence, and the volume of business passing through the market at this season of the year is said to be beyond all precedent.

It was reported yesterday that the Dallas hotel property on Dallas road, near the outer wharves, has been transferred to a local syndicate, at the head of which is Mr. P. Criddle, for the sum of $75,000. The building, which is a two storey one, was erected by Mr. Wm. Jensen, in the year 1890. It has since that date changed hands several times, the vendors in the present case being people living in England, represented here by the B. C. Land & Investment Agency.

The area of land in proximity to the outer docks continues to be a favorite district for investors. The corner of Montreal and Dallas road, just back of Ogden Point, where the breakwater is to be constructed, according to the plans of Mr. Louis Coste, was recently purchased by a Chinese syndicate for a sum in the neighborhood of $20,000, and it is now held at $27,000. The adjoining properties of Wm. Atkins, Capt. M. Meyer and Mrs. M. R. Smith, which constitute the frontage on Dallas road from Montreal to St. Lawrence, are held at figures which total well on to a three-quarters of a million dollars.

The property on Montreal street, between Dallas road and Niagara street, belonging to the estate of the late G. Matthews, consisting of four lots, was recently sold to a Vancouver syndicate for $26,000. The northeast corner of St. Lawrence and Ontario, formerly owned by W. McLean, has been resold at a figure close to $20,000.

The activity in the James Bay district, which is most pronounced, rests mostly on the belief that an early start will be made on the harbor improvement by the federal government, an appropriation for half a million dollars to commence the undertaking having already been included in the estimates. The report of the examining engineer, Mr. Louis Coste, who was here a short time ago, on whose recommendations the work will be carried out is expected to shortly be handed to the minister of public works, word to that effect having been received by the board of trade. Victoria West and adjacent districts are also favorite fields for the investor, and many transactions are going through the market. The waterfront sections in that locality are much in demand and there has been a constant rise in values.

The Victoria hockey team will today clash with the visiting Vancouver British Isles public schools team at the Albion cricket grounds at 3 o'clock. The match is a British Columbia league fixture. It promises to be an interesting one.

Big Score at Polo

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 9.—Viscount Gower, one of the wealthiest of the young British noblemen, added to his fame as a polo player today when the Englishmen defeated Pasadena "B" team 19½ to 5. Viscount Gower scored eight goals for his team and played a sensational game. Tomorrow the Canadian and Santa Barbara teams will meet in the final game of the winter polo tournament, deciding the championship.

Six-Day Bicycle Race

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The six days international bike race ended here tonight. Walter Rutt and Johann Stell, comprising the German-Dutch team won the event by a length from Joe Foger and James Moran. Eddie Root and Fred Hill were third. The men covered 2,405 1-2 miles.

Burnaby proposes to expend $100,000 this summer in the purchase of five new sites and the provision of more school accommodation.

RECEIVER DISCHARGED

Developments in Case of Washington Orchards Company—Demand Made for Securities

SEATTLE, Feb. 9.—Harry E. Wilson, receiver for the Washington Orchard Irrigation and Fruit Co. and for the Columbia River Orchard Co., made his report to the superior court today and was discharged as receiver for the Washington Orchard Irrigation and Fruit company. This company is now in the hands of E. Winkler, appointed temporary receiver by the United States bankruptcy court.

In his report receiver Wilson said he had come into possession of some office furniture, some papers and the keys to the power house at Wahluke, the site of the irrigation project. L. J. Biehl, former secretary of the companies, and now trust officer of the Washington Trust Co. of Portland, Ore., holder of collateral for the bond issues of the orchard companies, has not given the securities held by him to the receiver. Last week Mr. Biehl promised Mr. Wilson that he would deliver the securities not later than Tuesday, and today Mr. Wilson made a peremptory demand that they be delivered at once.

BASEBALL PLAYERS AND THEIR CLUBS

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 9.—Judge W. W. McCredie, president of the Portland baseball club, announced today that he had traded Catcher Tommy Murray to St. Paul, Minn., for a young pitcher named Stieger. Including Stieger, Judge McCredie says that he has secure all but one of the pitching staff of the Portland team in the Pacific Coast League.

CANAL DEFENCES

Work of Fortifying Flamenco Island, at Pacific Entrance is Ordered to Begin at Once

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Work on the great fortress on Flamenco island which will guard the Pacific entrance to the Panama canal is to begin at once under orders issued by the war department today. This island lies directly in front of the canal entrance, and as the nearest lock, the injury or destruction of which would prevent the operation of the canal, lies eight miles inland, the Flamenco defences will insure safety for the great waterway on that side. No hostile ship could get within striking distance of the lock without fatal exposure to the guns of the fort.

The defence will comprise fourteen-inch guns and the heaviest type of sea coast mortars.

The engineers soon will be ready to begin work on similar defences on the Atlantic side of the isthmus. Because of the low and marshy ground, however, the difficulties will be much greater than on the Pacific side.

Miners Trapped

DANVILLE, Ills., Feb. 9.—Fifty miners were trapped tonight in the Fairmont Coal company's shaft at Bennet Station. They have been there since early morning, and there is no prospect of release before tomorrow. All are believed safe. A hoisting wheel broke and the cages were stuck in the shaft. The only egress was by way of the air shaft, which was choked with ice.

Parties in Reichstag

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—The result of the election of the officers of the Reichstag shows that the old Conservative alliance with the Centrists is still in operation. It lacks only three votes in order to obtain a majority in a full house. The opponents of the alliance, members of the progressive parties, are unable to muster their full strength, as a number of National Liberals are proving unreliable when called upon to chooose between a Socialist and an anti-Socialist.

Heliodorus Reappears

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 9.—Heliodorus, the reactionary priest, who recently while under a sentence of exile mysteriously disappeared, has returned to St. Petersburg, and started for the Floridsticheff monastery, where he was ordered to pass his term of exile. This statement is printed today in the Novoe Vremya.

Paisley Abbey

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Two further gifts towards the restoration of Paisley Abbey were announced last night at Paisley, one of $40,000 from Robert Allison, of Paisey, for the erection of the great central tower, and one of $10,000 from A. F. Craig, of Paisley, and his wife, for the building of the cloisters. The latter part of the work is to be dedicated to the memory of Mr. Craig's father. J. Stewart Clark, of Dundas Castle, and his sisters recently gave $150,000 for the restoration of the choir, and only a small amount is now needed to complete the scheme.

AMATEUR ACTORS IN NEW PLAY

Local Dramatic Society Gives Praiseworthy Interpretation of "Lady Huntworth's Experiment"

It was a most appreciative audience that last evening witnessed the opening performance of "Lady Huntworth's Experiment" by the Victoria Amateur Dramatic society at the Victoria theatre last evening, and it was a matter for regret that the hockey match, which unfortunately fell on the same evening, should have kept so many people away. The play was admirably put on and admirably played and everyone did his or her part so well that it would seem almost invidious to draw any distinctions. Briefly, the plot of the play is as follows:

A quiet vicarage in Droneburgh, England, contains a remarkably fascinating cook, to whose charms not only the bachelor master of the household has succumbed, but his guest, Captain Dorvaston, and also the ancient retainer, or man of all work, Gandy. Now, although both the vicar (who holds no celibate views on the subject of matrimony) and his ancient gardener are both entirely at liberty to openly avow their infatuation, Capt. Dorvaston is in no such happy case, as many years ago he promised his commanding officer that he would marry his daughter Lucy, who is also the vicar's neice. That the said Lucy's affections have been disposed in quite a different quarter is, at the time the play opens unknown to her fiance, who, as a man of honor, sees nothing for it but to go through with his promise and do his best (he put it more forcibly than that himself) to make Lucy "the happiest girl in the world." Fortunately for the entire household the dainty Lucy, so charming to look upon that one might scarcely, perhaps, have suspected it of her, is a lady possessed of plenty of resourcefulness and determination. She it is who suggests to her clerical lover that the only thing to do is for them to elope and to get married without telling anyone about it. While they are making their arrangements, however, their plans are discovered by the cook, but the cook proves herself to be a thorough good sort, for she convinces Lucy from the start that it is her earnest wish to help rather than to hinder them, though just whether the cook is acting from motives of pure altruism alone is a little hard to decide.

Lord Huntworth Arrives.

At this juncture of the play, however, her own affairs are complicated by the arrival on the scene of her former husband, Lord Huntworth, now traveling under the name of Craill, and from whom she had recently been divorced owing to various eminently suitable grounds for domestic disagreement. He has just heard that she has fallen heiress to a large fortune left her by an uncle in Australia, and considers that it would be an excellent plan were she to return to him, and let him assist her in spending the same. With the appearance of her erstwhile husband both the vicar, the captain and the retainer, owing, doubtless, to some extraordinary psychological instinct decide that the hour has at length arrived for them to acquaint the cook with their feelings towards her. Although the captain, is of course, prevented by reason of his engagement to Lucy from laying his heart at her feet, he impresses upon her his desire to be of assistance to her in any way possible, while the vicar and Gandy having no such obstacles in the way go straight to the point, each receiving in his turn a gentle refusal. Only to Captain Dorvaston, for whom it is not difficult to see from the start of the play that she really cares, does she reveal the story of her past, and the fact that she is a married woman although the law has removed her out of her husband's reach. In the last act it is Huntworth himself, who in an effort to have the wife who despises him cast out of the vicarage household, exposes the whole story. While he is telling it Lucy, and her curate are being married at the neighboring village and they make their return shortly after the departure of Lady Huntworth, now rendered independent by her recently acquired fortune, leaves the male portion of the household plunged in gloom. Dorvaston's congratulations, as say be imagined, are most heartfelt, and he loses no time in giving the young couple his blessing and in hurrying after the woman whom he loves and from whom duty debars him no longer.

Some of the Players.

Mr. R. N. Hincks as the Rev. Audley Pillenger was delightful, and gave an admirably humorous presentation of the staid country parson. Mr. B. H. Tyrwhitt Drake as the genial Captain Dorvaston won the hearts of his audience from the start, and a better conception of that bluff, chivalrous soldier, could scarcely have been desired. Mr. A. E. Craddock as Craill, otherwise Lord Huntworth, had an unpleasant part to play, and the highest praise that can be given him is to say that he played it most unpleasantly. Mr. C. H. C. Payne as the mild-mannered little curate, Mr. R. Yates as Gandy, the man of all work, and Mr. F. C. Holland, who took the part of the newspaper boy, all supported their parts well and earned the good will of the audience.

Mrs. Pennington Goddard scored a distinct triumph in the by-no-means-easy part of Caroline the cook, otherwise Lady Huntworth. Her acting was capital—graceful, restrained and dignified, and her simple print gowns so becoming that no one wondered at the infatuation of the vicar.

To Miss Elise Dodwell, who took the part of Lucy, a very large share of the success of the entire play is due. Miss Dodwell, although an amateur of comparatively little experience, is possessed of marked histrionic ability, and couples with that gift a very attractive stage personality. Mrs. Taylor as Miss Hannah Pillenger, gave an excellent study of an old maid, and Miss Phyllis Davis did very well in the small part of Keziah, the little servant.

The play was most enthusiastically received and several beautiful floral tokens were handed over the footlights at the close. Congratulations are certainly in order to all those taking part and to Major Taylor who took such pains and worked so hard to make the performance the success it subsequently proved to be. The play will be repeated at the theatre this evening when a full house is expected.

Penticton had a close call from destruction by fire a few evenings ago, when fire which burned out the Penticton Mercantile Co., threatened to spread throughout the town.

Agitation is strong for a telephone service between Lytton and Lillooet.

LAST OF CHINESE NEW YEAR FETES

Local Chinatown Will Begin Next Saturday the Final Celebration of the Old-time Celestial Holiday

Chinatown will celebrate the New Year on Saturday next for the last time under the old conditions. Hereafter, by reason of a proclamation issued by the president of the republic, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the Chinese will join with foreigners in holding their celebrations on January 1, for the Yang Li, the Gregorian calendar, is to take the place of the old lunar calendar in China.

With the introduction of the Gregorian calendar for the republic, the Chinese are confronted with innumerable complications in addition to the necessity of changing most of their business contracts. Traditional festivities and social customs will be more or less affected.

The new date for the celebration of the anniversary of Confucius will demand an increasingly difficult calculation as the republic grows older. The mid-autumn festivals, the dragon festivals, and those of summer and winter solstices, etc., will be upset owing to the discrepancy in dates, and if these traditional customs are to be preserved at all the Chinese will have each year to work out the dates from the old calendar.

As a result of the new calendar the illiterate class may forsake altogether their annual worships and sacrifices to gods like the god of thunder, the goddess of mercy and Kwang Kung. Superstitions and beliefs in non-physical agencies may be abandoned when they are confused by the change of dates.

The profession of the Chinese astrologers will be seriously hampered. All their ancient and written formulas based on the old dates will be upset and hence their fortune telling will be worthless and if they stick to their vocation they will have to keep both old and new calendars in mind.

Again the Yang Li (the Gregorian calendar) will constantly shift the date of their births and will affect their ages. The latter fact, however, may not displease the Chinese girls for their age will be trimmed down—in some cases as much as two years.

For instance a girl who was born December 20, 1888, will be, according to Chinese reckonings, 25 years old, whereas a foreign girl born on the same day will not be 24 years of age until December 20 of this year, 1912. For in China the custom has been that on the day of birth, the child is considered as one year old, so the girl in question would be two years old by January 1 of 1889, although she had lived no more than 12 days.

"The Rosary"—Rowland and Clifford's theatrical success, which will be seen at the Victoria theatre next Wednesday, Feb. 14, tells a story of a modern Garden of Eden in which the serpent enters in the form of a rejected suitor, who wrecks the home and happiness of a married couple by playing upon the jealousy of the husband. There is diffused throughout the drama a remarkable air of purity, faith and hope from the opening scene, which pictures the happy couple about to celebrate their second marriage anniversary, and surrounded by all the creature comforts of modern civilization, to the last act when the twain, broken in health and fortune and wrecked by jealousy come after two weary children at the feet of the old priest who has fathered them throughout their troubles. In the days of their prosperity they had built a chapel for their old friend the priest, and in their adversity they come back to the little edifice one Sunday morning just as the chimes send their music rolling through the valley. The story is interestingly told, and, with a cast comprising Harrison J. Terry as Father Kelly, and with scenic effects that are brilliant, the production is worth attending.

John McCormack—Those who have already heard John McCormack sing the "Snowy Greatest Pearl," that exquisite gem of ancient Irish melody will not need to be told that it is his favorite song, for he sings it with a perfection only possible where the music itself is really loved. Among the many operatic roles which have already won him adoring enthusiasm the one that appeals to him is "Rodolfo" in La Boheme which he has sung to the "Mimi"") of the "Mimi" of the peerless Melba. But though this role is the one he likes best, the opera that stands first in his affection is Charpentiers "Louise." His favorite composers are Wagner, Bizet and Puccini.

Crystal Theatre—"Jean Rescues" by the Vitagraph Co., is the headliner for tonight. "Father Love," a Lubin; "Lure of the City," by the Edison; "Youth vs. Age," a Pathe; and "Small Trades in Malacca," a scenic, makes up a programme that you will find hard to beat anywhere if you will judge from the makes alone, no better film or subjects are made than those of the Vitagraph, Lubin, Edison and Pathe. Don't forget Monday and Tuesday with the big feature "Cinderella." This is positively the prettiest, most costly and gorgeous production ever made. Three reels, 99 scenes, or three thousand feet. While a fairy tale it will appeal to the old as well as the young. This we will guarantee and urge upon you to attend as you will either return a second time or send a friend. It is being praised all over the country wherever it has been shown by the press as being the biggest thing yet got out.

MRS. GREEN IN COURT

Richest Woman Charged by Lawyer With Attempting to Extort Money From W. R. Hearst

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Hetty Green, known as the richest woman in the world, "attempted to extort money" from William Randolph Hearst, according to C. M. Bove, attorney for the editor, who obtained an order in court directing Mrs. Green to show cause why she should not be compelled to accept $275,000 with interest up to last Monday in payment of a mortgage she held on Hearst properties. Mrs. Green, Bove stated, refused to cancel the mortgage until $1,145 additional interest, which he said "the richest woman" claimed when Mr. Hearst's representatives called on her last Monday.

Today Bove withdrew the order, saying that Mrs. Green had "capitulated" and turned over the mortgage for the amount named by Mr. Hearst.

Mrs. Green is quoted as saying: "The charge that I tried to extort money is absurd. I simply asked Mr. Hearst's representatives to wait till the return of my son, who was handling the business, and when they refused I asked thirty days' interest, to which I believed I was entitled to."

CONCERNING CAR FERRIES

It will soon be possible to take a private car at New York or, for that matter, at Victoria and go to Havana, Cuba, without change, if you want to indulge in such an experience, although it is 218 miles to the Cuban city from the nearest point on the continental shore to which a railway has been built. This is due to the completion of the Key West railway, which is to be supplemented by a car ferry. The Key West railway is 128 miles long; of this distance 75 miles are over water and the remaining 53 miles over islands numbering 41 in all, most of them being very small. There are places en route where the train is out of sight of land. The railway cost $150,000 a mile, or a little less than $20,000,000. From Key West to Havana the distance is 90 miles and this is to be covered by a car-ferry. We commend these facts to those people, who, when we speak of connections between Victoria and the Mainland by way of car-ferries, reply by asking: What's the use of talking about car-ferries when you can cover the space in a steamer?

A year or so ago the Colonist ventured the suggestion that the C.P.R. would reach Halifax from St. John by way of a car-ferry to a point on Annapolis Basin. The suggestion seemed so visionary that not even the St. John papers, which usually reproduce everything the Colonist says bearing upon the future of their port, thought it worth while to refer to it. Yesterday our telegrams said that the C.P.R. is arranging to put in the necessary facilities for such a ferry. The distance to be covered is 45 miles.

There will come a time in the near future, when, if you wish to go to the expense, you can get in a car in Victoria, be ferried across to Asia, cross Asia and Europe and be ferried across the "silver streak" to England and then across the Atlantic and home again across the Continent. The possibilities of car-ferriage are only beginning to be understood, but we do not wish to be thought to be suggesting that transoceanic ferries will ever be in use. We mention the possibility of such ferriage only to emphasize the statement that a modern, up-to-date car-ferry is a very different thing from a big scow towed by a tug.

A NATION ON TRIAL

The theory that republics are incapable of a prolonged existence and that sooner or later they end in absolutism was looked upon half a century ago as abundantly demonstrated by the facts of history. The manner in which the United States passed through the war of Secession seemed to disprove it, and great encouragement was thereby given to the republican movement everywhere. France and Portugal among European countries have got rid of their monarchical form of government, and China is endeavoring to become a republic. The Central and South American countries, with the exception of Brazil, have been republics in form but dictatorships in fact for very nearly a century. Brazil expelled its emperor in 1889, and two years later adopted a republican constitution. The country in which republicanism was supposed to be receiving its best trial was the United States. Its constitution was framed by men of ability, and has frequently been referred to by statesmen of eminence as the greatest example of human wisdom. It provides for a series of what are called checks and counter-checks, whereby it is assumed that anything like a tyranny can be prevented, and yet we find in a paper read before the Bar Association of Virginia and Maryland the following surprising statements:

Theoretically, the President is under the law. The Supreme Court has so declared by a majority of one; but is there no danger that, at some future time, some ambitious and popular man, returned from a foreign conquest, and elected President as the champion of the people, might feel that his powers were too great to be confined by a theory, and that, for the good of the people, he ought to be President for life? The Supreme Court came within one vote of holding that the President of the United States was above the law; that the title to land taken possession of and held under his orders could not be inquired into or passed upon by any court; a doctrine, said Mr. Justice Miller, speaking for the majority, that "sanctions a tyranny that has no existence in the monarchies of Europe, nor in any other government which has a just claim to well-regulated liberty and the protection of personal rights.

The writer of the paper points out that if one of the judges had changed his vote, as happened in the famous case involving the constitutionality of the income tax, "the Supreme Court would have sanctioned that same tyranny." Thomas Jefferson—at least if it was not he it was another of the Fathers of the Constitution—is quoted as saying that the only purpose of the Federal government at Washington was to conduct international affairs; but in a little over a century and a quarter, through the interpretations put upon the Constitution, that government touches the most intimate rights and privileges of citizens. A nation which stands on the brink of a tyranny is certainly a nation on trial.

A novel point, having a bearing upon the future of the country, is that while the United States is "republican," it is not "democratic." This is not a mere play upon words, as might at first sight be supposed. Perhaps we can make the distinction plain in a few sentences. In a democracy the power of the people is absolute, as it is in Canada, and, for that matter, everywhere else in the self-governing parts of the British Empire. It may take time in some instances for the people to secure compliance with their will, but there are no limits to the scope of the exercise of that will. No sovereign or court or any one else has the right to say that we may not do whatever we see fit to do as a people. For the sake of maintaining orderly government, the courts may say that we can only do certain things in certain ways, but of the right to do what we please there is absolutely no question. This is a democracy. Ours is a "crowned democracy," to quote Tennyson; but that serves to maintain its stability. A republic, according to the new doctrine advanced in the United States, is a form of government under which the Supreme Court, appointed by the President, has a right to say what the limits of popular sovereignty are. "An independent judiciary has been granted by the will of the sovereign people as expressed in their several constitutions. If this guarantee should not be kept effective, I cannot conceive of any other result than anarchy," said Mr. Lynn Helen, president of the California Bar Association. Again, he says "to vote for their representatives freely is the highest act of original sovereignty." This may be true enough in a country like ours, where the powers of representatives are unlimited, but it is not true in a country like the United States, where those powers are limited by the decrees of an appointive tribunal. Upon this issue between Democracy and Republicanism the people of the United States are rapidly dividing into hostile camps, and, with the profoundest respect for the common sense of the nation, we feel unable to regard the possible outcome of the impending struggle without considerable anxiety.

POORLY PAID JUDGES

It will be a matter of interest to the smaller centres of population in the province to learn that steps are to be taken at an early moment to provide larger salaries for county-court judges. Up to the present the men who have filled these responsible posts have not been paid as much as if they had been practising at the Bar. The result has created a difficulty in obtaining good men. This factor has led to the suggestion that the position of county court judge should be abolished and their present jurisdiction vested in the supreme court, the judges of the latter court being assigned to residence in the various districts. It is hardly likely that this course will be adopted, although it is generally believed that some reformative action will be taken at an early date. The matter will shortly be taken up by the Attorney General with the Minister of Justice and as a result of representations which the former will make it seems probable that a solution of the difficulty will be reached.

THE LIQUOR LAW

The manner in which the provincial liquor law is being administered must be a matter of considerable gratification to all who have the moral interests of the province at heart. We print today some figures from the annual report of the superintendent of provincial police which make interesting reading. It appears that there are in existence at present fewer licenses in British Columbia than there were at the end of 1910. This is in spite of a very considerable growth in population. During 1911 the number of licenses cancelled or those, the renewal of which was refused, amounted to ten. There were 103 prosecutions by the Attorney General's department and 86 convictions were secured. In upwards of sixty of these cases alternative sentences of imprisonment, in terms ranging from two to nine months, were imposed, and a total of $14,675 was collected by the province in fines.

Attorney General Bowser is to be congratulated on the work of his department in rigidly enforcing the Liquor Law. He has given notice of a bill to further amend that law, one which will enable his department to deal with abuses which at present hardly come within its scope. There have been instances not only in city hotels but in roadhouses, and among these some in the immediate vicinity of Victoria, where such abuses have been going on for some time past. The authorities in the various cities have shown an indifference amounting almost to complete apathy, and it would seem now that the government is going to insure that these abuses are continued no longer. They include the selling of liquor to minors, a matter to which the Colonist has drawn attention on more than one occasion recently.

INTENSIVE CHICKEN FARMING

Mr. Godwin Edwards, of London, says 40,000 chickens can be raised on an acre in a year. The hatching is done in incubators. The chicks are never allowed at large and are fed a ration that makes them weigh 3 pounds at 13 weeks old. Their feed would cost 12 cents each. At local prices here the feed might be put at 15 cents and the 3-lb. chicks at 60 cents, giving a margin of 45 cents or, allowing for eggs and the cost of hatching, 40 cents. Forty thousand chickens sold at a profit of 40 cents each would yield $16,000 to pay for labor and interest on capital, a profit that is about as good as real estate speculation in boom times.

Mr. Edwards also discusses the egg problem. We are going to have shortly what he calls "super-hens." He says there are breeds now that will give 200 eggs a year, but this does not satisfy him. Apparently he wants hens that will lay an egg every day in the week and two on Sunday. But speaking seriously, he looks for a time in the near future when "by the careful management of these super-breeds and their universal adoption by poultry experts, we shall so augment our home supply so enormously that the foreign egg will become unsaleable in the London market." Then we shall see, probably, the end of the alleged classification of this necessary food product into Strictly Fresh Eggs, Fresh Eggs, and Eggs.

"The oldest man in Ireland is dead," says a despatch. Now, how can the oldest man anywhere be dead?

The grain-growers on the prairies are beginning to appreciate the importance of providing for the western transportation of wheat. Victoria cannot get ready any too soon.

Commenting on the statement that "the nation is calling Mr. Roosevelt," the New York Herald remarks that Central may have rung up the wrong number, or perhaps the wires are crossed.

It is beginning to look as if a statement in the Colonist that the next full moon would fall on a certain date would be construed in a certain quarter as "a campaign document" issued in the interest of the McBride government.

Today the Vancouver Skating Rink will resound with such observations as: "Break an egg, mon, on the back of you stane," "Gie us a drawn shot for the tee," "Elbow out, mon, and pit it right here," "Soop her up," and so on, for curling has its language as well as golf and politics.

It would not do, of course, to say who he was, or to intimate even that he came from Aberdeen; but he confesses that the night after he was asked to go to Vancouver and be one of the Legislative eight in a curling match he dreamed of stanes and brooms and tees, and of making the fines' shots man ever made.

Mr. Arnold Bennett, an English novelist, has been saying of Dickens that he "cannot consider him a first-class creative artist." Miss Jeanette Gilder disposed of this criticism very neatly when she said: "A little dog may bark at a railway train, but the train goes on just the same."

According to those who profess to know, there is to be a supreme effort this month to overthrow the Portuguese republic. A counter story is that there is to be an effort to overthrow the Spanish monarchy and make the whole peninsula a republic to be called "the Iberian Republic."

Another demand for higher wages from railway employees in the United States. This will probably lead to another advance in railway charges. This will further increase the cost of living. This will lead to another demand for higher wages, and so the thing will go on. One thing is certain, and it is that something will have to give way some time in this endless chain of increases.

REALTY EXCHANGE FIXES FIRST ANNUAL

President and Board of Directors to be Elected at Statutory to be Held During This Month

The growing interest and influence of the Real Estate Exchange recently inaugurated in the city of Victoria was emphasized by the exceptionally large turnout of members at a special general meeting held yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the organization on the second floor of the Pemberton block. Numerous matters of import to the members and also to the association generally were discussed with a view of getting things into better shape for the first statutory meeting which has been decided to be held on the 21st of the month when the first board of directors, together with a permanent chairman, will be elected.

It was decided at the meeting yesterday that Mr. Beaumont Boggs, the temporary president, and the gentlemen who have been acting up to this time as directors, will resign, and that nominations for the same will be in order at the statutory meeting. In this connection it may be mentioned that the number of directors has been raised from seven to twelve. In view of the fact that Mr. Boggs has already been elected to represent the Exchange at the annual convention of American Exchanges to be held at Louisville this year it is not likely that any change will be made in regard to that point.

While the major part of yesterday's meeting was occupied with a discussion respecting the vexed question of commissions other matters of public import were transacted. Letters were read from the Board of Trade congratulating the Exchange upon its inception and assuring the members upon the co-operation of the Board in any works that tended toward the advancement of the city generally and toward the realisation of the bridging over of the Seymour Narrows particularly.

It was reported that the assessment roll of the Oak Bay district, a request for the publication of which on behalf of the Exchange members had been made, would be run off to order at $10 a copy. It was also stated, however, that this quotation applied only to the copies ordered en bloc, and that any additional copies would probably cost a great deal more. Members desiring copies will fill in an application form and hand it to the secretary so that the same may be forwarded to Mr. Floyd.

In regard to balloting for admission of new members the chairman stated that unless some good moral ground could be advanced against any applicant it would be well for them to be very careful in refusing to grant admission to anyone.

Owing to the resignation of Mr. Kennedy from the executive committee Mr. T. P. Monk was appointed to the vacancy.

The grievance of the promoters of the furniture factory on Garbally road, whose building permit has been refused by the building inspector was spoken to by Messrs. Douglas and Rochefort, and on their recommendation it was decided to refer the matter to the legislative committee to take the matter up with the city council. It was stated that the promoters had purchased some $2,000 worth of machinery and that the objection to the structure, on the ground that it was located in a residential district and not a commercial one, did not hold water as there were several other manufacturing concerns operating in practically the same area.

Mr. Williams next took objection to section 133, placing the burden of proof on the defendant in a fire prosecution.

Hon. Mr. Ross said that it had been in the old Bush Fires act, and had worked out satisfactorily. They did not expect to turn out a perfect bill, but they did wish to put in it certain principles that would work out for the greater protection of forests in this province.

Mr. Brewster said the proposal in the act reversed the procedure of British justice in making an accused man prove his own innocence.

Difficult to Convict

Hon. Mr. Ross replied that in covering so wide an area there was great difficulty in securing convictions. The government had no wish to be tyrannical, but it was in the interests of public safety that conviction should be secured. He had expected some criticism of this section, and some talk about Russian laws.

Mr. Brewster said that it might be difficult for the government to secure convictions, and it might be quite as difficult for an innocent man to prove his innocence. The minister talked about Russia, and it looked as if he had been studying it up, for this certainly looked very much like Russian legislation.

Hon. Mr. Ross pointed out that they had the same principle in other statutes in this province, and he did not think it had worked out badly.

Mr. Brewster: "My hon. friend is a member of the bar. I want to know if he thinks this clause will stand the test of the courts?"

Hon. Mr. Ross: "If it becomes part of this statute I believe it will stand the test of the courts."

Mr. Williams sited four instances in which he said men in his district had been fined $50 each simply because fires were started on their places, and they could not satisfy the magistrate that they did not start them themselves. He had reason to believe that two of these men at least were certainly innocent. A fifth fire had started on the place of a Chinaman, and there had been no prosecution. He wished to know if Chinamen were exempt under this act?

Hon. Mr. Ross said as head of the department he had no information about the incident in question or he would be glad to give it. Had the Chinaman been prosecuted and found guilty he would certainly have been fined.

Permit a Protection

Hon. Mr. McPhillips said that a permit to burn should be a protection, since if a man were prosecuted for starting a fire he could produce this certificate showing that he had a right to start it. If a man was accused of starting a fire on his place, and swore he did not start it, it would be the duty of the magistrate to find out whether it had been started by an employee. If he could not prove that a man had started the fire he certainly could not find him guilty. On the other hand if the magistrate considered a man to be unworthy of belief why should the legislature protect him?

Mr. Brewster said the government encouraged men to secure convictions by offering an informer half the fine.

Hon. Mr. Ross said that he had asked that that part of the act be left over the other day as he intended to repeal it. His friends opposite were very critical now, but he had received no suggestion from them before that would have spared the time of the committee. Instead they aired their grievances on the floor of the house.

Mr. Brewster said the minister could not expect them to come down to his department with suggestions. This was the proper place to criticise. The government in this matter of convictions was simply trying to take the easy road.

Mr. Williams said that if the average J. P. had the legal knowledge of the member for Islands, he would take his chance of pulling out safe, but the average J. P. knew as much about these things as the member for Newcastle, and he confessed that that was not very much.

Hon. Mr. McPhillips said that in an experience of something over twenty-five years at the bar he ought to know something about our courts of justice, and he did not not see how a man who had not started a fire could be found guilty unless there were a gross miscarriage of justice.

The clause was carried, and after reading to the end of section 136, the committee rose and reported progress.

Mr. Miller moved the second reading of bill No. 54, an act for the relief of the municipal corporation of the city of Fernie. He said the bill was brought down for the same reason as bill 53, which had preceded it. Owing to the Fernie fire it was impossible to prove the existence of a loan improvement bylaw. Under the assumption that this bylaw had been passed the city of Fernie issued debentures and proceded with a portion of their work. They then discovered that they were unable to prove that the preliminary bylaw had been passed, and this bill was for the purpose of validating that bylaw and removing all doubt.

The bill passed second reading.

Maintenance of Cemetery

Mr. Thomson moved the second reading of an act respecting the city of Victoria. He said it was intended to rectify certain difficulties that the city had found in working under the municipal clauses act. At present the city had no authority to turn its debenture issues into inscribed stock. By selling as inscribed stock they would be able to realise higher prices for their bonds, and this bill would enable them to do so. The second portion related to the school bylaw which might be considered invalid as the board had made two levies during the one year. The purpose of this bill was to remove all doubt as to its validity. The next part was in connection with with the maintenance and upkeep of the Ross Bay cemetery. Some years ago the city alienated certain portions of the cemetery to different religious bodies, and they had now no means of levying a fund for the maintenance of the cemetery as a whole. This would enable them to do that. The last section related to the maintenance of the public library. The library got into financial difficulties, and it was found that it could not be supported on the $6,000 a year voted for it. This bill provided for summary taxation towards the support of the library.

The following bills were introduced, read a first time, and ordered to be read a second time on Monday next:

By Mr. Hayward—Bill No. 13, intituled "an act to amend the 'veterinary act.'"

Mr. Mackay presented the twelfth report from the private bills committee, as follows:

Mr. Speaker—Your select standing committee on private bills and standing orders beg leave to report as follows:

That the time limited for receiving reports from the standing committee on private bills be extended from this date to the 16th February instant.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was received and adopted.

Mr. Brewster's Questions

Mr. Brewster asked the Hon. the minister of finance the following questions:

1. Why have not the taxes alleged to be due from the British Columbia Southern Railway company been collected? 2. How many acres of land owned by the British Columbia Southern Railway company are assessed for the purpose of taxation? 3. What is the valuation fixed for assessment purposes upon the said lands?

The Hon. Price Ellison replied as follows:

1. "On account of appeals and subsequent negotiations relative to a settlement which are still pending. 2. In 1908, 3,111,651.28 acres; 1909, 3,077,034.92 acres; 1910, 2,968,916.39 acres; 1911, 2,049,064.87 acres. 3. In 1908, $1,855,700; 1909, $1,655,700; 1910, $1,545,064; 1911, $1,541,475."

Mr. Brewster asked the hon. the minister of finance the following questions: 1. What property on Vancouver Island owned by the Canadian Collieries, Ltd., is assessed for the purpose of taxation? 2. What is the valuation for the purpose of taxation placed upon the above property? 3. What amount of taxes has been paid by the Canadian Collieries, Limited, and under what heading? 4. What amount of taxes, if any, are now owing by this company?

The Hon. Price Ellison replied as follows:

1. "The government has no knowledge of any land on Vancouver Island owned by the Canadian Collieries, Ltd. There is no land registered or assessed in that name. 2, 3, and 4. Answered by No. 1."

AFFAIRS OF CANAL

Secretary Stimson and Chief Engineer Goethals to Appear Before House Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Colonel Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal, was in conference today with Secretary Stimson concerning canal legislation now pending before congress. They are to appear Monday before the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce.

It has been deemed absolutely necessary by President Taft, Secretary Stimson and Col. Goethals that the present congress fix toll rates to be charged on vessels passing through the canal in order that the great maritime interests of the world might be prepared for the opening of the waterway. It is also held essential that provisions be made for some permanent form of government for the zone and for the selection from among the large army of workers there of a force of skilled employes to operate it.

Colliery Co.'s Railway—Mr. W. L. Coulson, president of the Wellington Colliery Railway Company, is calling for tenders, which will be received up to noon of the 16th inst., for the construction of six and one-half miles of standard guage railway near Comox to extend to a new working. The undertaking is in furtherance of the policy of the new owners of the Dunsmuir interests (Mackenzie & Mann) to develop on a large scale the holdings in the vicinity of Comox.

More Inquiries—The progress of the Alberni district is attracting considerable attention in many quarters outside the province, as is testified to by the allusions to it in letters received by the Vancouver Island Development League. As a result of information furnished to a resident in Belfast the recipient has booked his passage, and will arrive here at the end of March. Another gentleman from Stave Falls, having heard a great deal of the island as an ideal place for a camping holiday in the spring, writes for hints as to where to go, and the possibility of hiring a power launch.

Deputy Minister Recovering—The very many friends of Mr. J. McB. Smith, deputy minister of finance, will learn with much satisfaction that he is making excellent progress toward complete recovery from his recent accident, at the Jubilee hospital. While chatting with a friend at the Empress recently, Mr. Smith was seized with a sudden faintness and fell to the floor, fracturing his hip and remaining unconscious for several hours. He sustained the subsequent imperative operation remarkably well, and it is expected will be on the high road to convalescence within ten days or a fortnight.

Brick Company Increases Capital—The Coast Shale Brick Company, Limited, organized last year by Vancouver men, and having a modern plant for the manufacture of vitrified brick, has it is said, recently increased its capital from $100,000 to $500,000. Among the men identified with the company's undertaking are Mr. J. P. Elford of this city, Mr. Jonathan Rogers of Vancouver and Messrs. D. C. McGregor, E. J. Deacon, E. A. Earle, Arthur G. Smith, T. E. Ladner, John Wallace, all of Vancouver.

Fix Date for Sewer Completion—An amicable arrangement has been arrived at between the city and the municipality of Oak Bay relative to the date at which the proposed new trunk sewer leading from the vicinity of Smith's Hill reservoir to the waterfront at Shoal Bay is to be completed. The sewer will be constructed by Oak Bay, but the city will contribute $65,000 towards the cost. At a recent meeting of the city council the agreement between the two municipalities was submitted, the city solicitor explaining that the date for the completion of the work, October 31, had been objected to by Oak Bay, which refused to set any particular date but promised to have the sewer completed as soon as possible. The city council objected to pass the agreement without a definite date being fixed and the matter was referred to the sewers committee to take up with Oak Bay. A conference was held yesterday at which it was arranged that Oak Bay will immediately commence the work and guarantee to give the city an outlet not later than November 30.

W. C. T. U. Meeting—The monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held on Thursday afternoon in the Political Equality League rooms on Fort street, the president, Mrs. Willis croft being in the chair. A number of interesting reports were read, including one from the president on the local option convention recently held in Vancouver, which Mrs. Willis croft attended as an official delegate of the W. C. T. U. Another report was given by Mrs. Dixon, one of the members of a committee that recently waited on Dr. Robinson regarding the teaching in the schools of the harmful effect of narcotics. She stated that they had been received most cordially, and had been informed that although the subject was not taken up by the younger classes it was one of the subjects taught in the entrance class. The committee hope in the near future to wait on the license commissioners regarding the placing of notices in tobacco stores warning the public and salesmen against the sale of cigarettes to small boys. Miss Dorman recently appointed matron of the W. C. T. U. mission on Store street, also gave her report. They had had an average daily attendance of forty-five for each meal, and the fifty-three beds in the mission had all been occupied each night, a number having to be regularly turned away. A literary society had recently been formed, which was well patronized and much enjoyed. A series of first aid classes had also been formed, also a Sunday Bible class. Mrs. Wellwood made an appeal for curtains and more bedding for the mission. Contributions of the same will be gladly received by the committee, and those desiring to help on the work in this way are asked to communicate with Mrs. Wellwood, 1803 Quadra street, or 'phone R920.

Building Permits—Building permits were issued yesterday by the building inspector to the British Home Builders for a dwelling on Linden avenue to cost $5700; to Mrs. S. Brady, dwelling on Superior street, $4000; to M. Barr, dwelling on Blackwood street, $1600.

Anti-Tuberculosis Meeting—The annual meeting of the B. C. Anti-Tuberculosis society will be held this evening at 8:30 in the city hall. The annual report and financial statement will be presented, and it is hoped that a large number of the public will be present to hear the progress made in this province in the fight against the white plague. Dr. Fagan, provincial health officer, will speak on the work at Tranquille sanatorium.

Tyneside Association—The second whist drive of the Tyneside Association was held in the Royal hotel, Fort street, on Thursday night. There was a splendid attendance and an enjoyable evening was spent. Light refreshments were served at the interval. Mrs. Rawlinson was successful for the second week in winning the ladies' first prize. Mr. Stafford, first gent; Miss J. Rawlinson, second lady, and Mr. Herdman, second gent. Eight new members were enrolled. Next week's meeting will be held on Thursday, 15th inst. at 8 p. m.

Young Women's Club—The usual meeting of the Young Women's Club of the Metropolitan Methodist church was held on Wednesday evening, the chair being taken by the president, Miss Foxall. At the close of business proceedings a number of papers were read and the members also commenced the study of an interesting book on emigration, to which they expect to devote a certain portion of their time at each meeting for the next few weeks. The club will give a musical evening on March 6th, the chief feature of which will be an organ recital by Mr. Edward Parsons, organist of the church. The entertainment will be held in the schoolroom.

Presentation to Dr. Roper—Rev. Dr. Roper, bishop designate of this diocese, is not expected to arrive in this city until a day or two before his consecration which takes place on the 24th inst., St. Matthias' day. He has been paying a short visit to Toronto, and on Thursday evening he was given a farewell by his former congregation of St. Thomas' church, where he was rector from 1888 to 1897. Mr. J. R. Cartwright, K.C., read an illuminated address on behalf of the congregation in which the best wishes were expressed for Dr. Roper's success in the West. Afterwards Mr. D. W. Saunders, K.C., and Mr. W. Ince, churchwardens, presented Dr. Roper with a beautiful travelling case containing his episcopal vestments, including the scarlet robe worn at Convocation. The Bishop elect expects to leave for the coast on Monday.

Tells of Regina—Mr. W. H. Duncan, of Regina, who is a visitor here, stated that things were looking their brightest there for a most successful year. Just as he left the capital city of Saskatchewan the wintry aspect was gradually giving way before the approaching dawn of spring, business was enlivening with a greater life force than ever to the issues of another year and the people were intensely optimistic in regard to the prospects of a successful season. The three great railroads of the continent, the C.P.R., the C.N.R., and the G.T.P., all tap the city, rendering it, so it is hoped, one of the most potential divisional points and distributing centres in the Dominion. The last census gave the city a population of 30,000 and Mr. Duncan says that if it erred at all it erred on the side of diminution and not on the side of exaggeration.

Immigration Convention—On the 21st and 22nd of this month, in the city of Tacoma will be held the Pacific Northwest Immigration convention, a function, which though it is held on the other side of the international boundary, is not without interest to Canada and particularly to B. C. It is understood that among those who will attend the convention will be Lieut. Governor Paterson. The aim and objects of the convention are as follows: First, discussion and decision upon ways and means for encouraging immigration of a right sort, viz.: Men whose training and environment have qualified and fitted them to enter upon the task of soil development, on available lands, in the North Pacific country. Second, discussion and decision upon ways and means for educating and enlightening the newcomers to the end that they may more readily enter upon the duties of life and citizenship. Third, discussion and decision upon ways and means for locating the newcomers to the end that they may more readily enter upon the duties of life and citizenship. Third, discussion and decision upon ways and means for locating the newcomers upon the soil under conditions and circumstances that will constitute the best possible guarantee of success; protecting them against unscrupulous land dealers and aiding them, in an advisory way, until they become established and self-supporting.

ALDERMAN OBJECTS TO MAYOR'S RULING

Alderman Cuthbert Has Wordy Tiff With His Worship and then Clashes with Fire Chief Davis

Alderman Cuthbert was in a belligerent mood last night and during the discussion of council business he locked horns with Mayor Beckwith. No sooner had the threatened squall subsided and peace was restored than the ward four representative and Fire Chief Davis became involved and again the mayoral injunction was required before the wonted peace and quiet of the proceedings were restored.

Alderman Cuthbert took umbrage at the suggestion of Alderman Gleason that the application of the Swift Canadian Co., Ltd., for spur track privileges on Store street be laid over for a few minutes until the council was in session as a streets committee. Alderman Cuthbert wanted the matter settled one way or the other instanter and he complained of any delay being countenanced. His worship, in explaining that the delay was only for a few minutes, led Alderman Cuthbert to believe that he (the mayor) had used the expression "that will do" indicating that nothing further was requested from the alderman.

"Did I hear you say 'that will do?'" queried Alderman Cuthbert in an indignant tone. "I, as an alderman, will not stand for it," he ejaculated.

Mayor Beckwith denied that he had used the expression or that he ever would use such an expression to an alderman, but he also declared that he did not propose to permit any alderman to state that he "would not stand for" any action of his.

The discussion on the sought for privileges was later taken up in streets committee and it was decided that the city engineer should prepare a plan and profile of the proposed spur track where it would run from Store street across Telegraph street and onto the property at the southwest corner of those streets whereon it is the intention of the company to erect a cold storage building. If it is decided to grant the privilege the company will be expected to enter into an agreement to protect the city's rights and obviate any future claim by the company for rights which might arise out of the granting of the privilege.

It was some minutes later when a motion of Alderman Cuthbert's relative to the flushing of the paved streets by the use of the salt water hydrants was being debated that the alderman again became wrathy. He strongly urged the adoption of this method, a method which is in vogue in other cities, and he cited the loss which merchants suffer through the mud being tracked into their premises in winter and from the dust in dry weather.

Alderman Gleason pointed out that the salt water hydrants are so constructed as to render their use for street cleaning purposes undesirable. The mains are kept full of fresh water and to use the system would mean that each time the mains would have to be drained and filled with fresh water.

Alderman Stewart was also averse to the hydrants either of the salt or fresh water systems being used as in case of fire there would be trouble.

Alderman Cuthbert waxed indignant at what he claimed was neglect of the interests of the business men of the city who are forced to pay high taxes and get little consideration.

Chief Davis was at this stage requested to explain. He took exception to Alderman Cuthbert's suggestion that two or three firemen could easily flush down the streets. The firemen are not street cleaners and as chief of the department he would not permit any of his men to be so employed. They are employed as firemen and that is what they will continue to be as long as he had anything to do with it.

"Then this work cannot be carried out because it takes a fireman to turn on the hydrants and the chief says the firemen are not street cleaners and therefore we must tell the business men of the city that we cannot afford them protection for their stocks," suggested Alderman Cuthbert.

"I said nothing of the kind" shouted the fire chief, who was on his feet in an instant.

Alderman Gleason pointed out that the city has ordered from England a modern street cleaning machine which is expected to arrive at any time and on his suggestion the matter was allowed to rest until this new apparatus arrives.

WEST VANCOUVER'S INCORPORATION BILL

Clause Dealing With Validation of Tax Sales Arouses Difference of Opinion—Anderson Case Quoted

The private bills committee yesterday wrestled along once more with the West Vancouver incorporation bill. A great many clerical alterations were made in different clauses, and quite a difference of opinion was expressed on one validation amendment that both Mr. A. E. Bull, for West Vancouver, and Mr. W. E. Burns, for North Vancouver, strongly wished to have inserted.

This was for the purpose of validating all tax sales at the time the North Vancouver council was holding its sittings in the city of Vancouver. Mr. Burns pointed to the Anderson tax sale case in South Vancouver, where, after a lapse of thirteen years, Mr. Anderson had asserted a claim to land sold at a tax sale in that municipality under the old regime, and, after being defeated in two courts, the supreme court of Canada had decided that his claim was valid. Following this decision they had already been threatened by similar suits in North Vancouver. If the result were the same, innocent people, into whose hands the land had passed, would suffer, and they wished to guard against this.

Mr. McKay was of opinion that the proper manner to remedy this would be to go to the municipal committee and get them to put the amendment in the municipal clauses act, so that all municipalities would be protected.

Mr Burns pointed out that they answer would be that only one or two municipalities were affected, and it would be unwise to load up the general act with a clause for the protection of one or two.

It was finally decided to hold the amendment over for further consideration. The bill will be further considered on Tuesday next.

EXPERT ARRIVES

Former Seattle City Engineer Examines Into Moservoir Faults

With a view of probing the faults of the Smith's Hill reservoir Mr. R. H. Thompson, former city engineer of Seattle, and one of the most noted of municipal engineers of America, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon and promptly set to work on his task of investigation. In company with Mayor Beckwith and Aldermen Humber, Dilworth, Stewart, Porter, Beard, Okell and City Engineer Smith, Mr. Thompson visited the reservoir and made a cursory inspection of the big receptacle. He will be supplied with all data as to the extent of the leakage, will interview those members of the city staff who had anything to do with the reservoir construction and today will make a further examination.

Mr. Thompson is accompanied by Mr. Cavers, his private secretary.

Exiled Israel in Assyria—"Exiled Israel in Assyria" will be the theme of the study at the meeting of the Victoria branch of the Imperial British Israel Association, on Monday, February 12th, at 8 p. m., in the A. O. U. W. hall, upstairs, Yates street; to which the public are invited. This has no reference to the Jews of the Babylonian captivity; but is esteemed an archaeological triumph to the credit of Messrs. Layard, the Rawlinsons, M. Botta, Gotefrend, Bonomi, Sharon Turner and other great authorities, who by their researches prove the inspiration of the Bible. This the initial fingerpost of the so-called captivity, pointing the route to the assembling place in the British Isles, in exact parallel with Israel's "latter-day" prophetic forecast; appealing to the interest and reverence of many great thinkers throughout the world.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE

(Court of Appeal)

King Lumber Mills Limited v. the Canadian Pacific Railway company. On a motion to discharge an order for discovery, held that a person in the employ of a railway company, in the capacity of a fire warden, with other persons under him to make reports to him of fires in the district over which his jurisdiction extends, is an officer of the company within the meaning of rule 370c examinable for discovery.

In re Mabel Penery French. Statute; construction of; Legal Professions act, sec. 37, sub.-sec. 3 (b), 4 (b); Interpretation act, R.S.B.C. 1897, cap. 1, sec. 10, sub.-secs. 13 and 14; right of women to admission to legal profession.

The legislature, when framing the Legal Professions act, had not in mind the probability of women seeking to enter the profession, therefore any remedy for the omisson lies with the legislature and not with the benchers of the Law society.

J. A. Russell, in support of the motion; L. G. McPhillips, K. C., contra.

Rex v. Lew: The prisoner was found with the clothing of the prosecutrix in his valise, but he denied any knowledge of how it came to be there and the jury discredited his story. The evidence of the prosecutrix was that she had gone to Prince Rupert from Vancouver with the accused and lived there with him, that when she decided to return to Vancouver her clothing, including her boots, were missing, and were found in the prisoners, bag when he was arrested on the dock waiting for his steamer. The defence suggested that the girl herself had placed the clothing in the bag, but she denied this. The trial judge in his charge to the jury said: "It is suggested on the part of the crown, or, if it is not suggested, your common sense would suggest to you, that there would be a motive, we can readily understand on the Chinaman's part, for the taking of those clothes. There is sufficient evidence here, if you find that the intention of taking the girl to Prince Rupert was to embark her in the business of prostitution, and it is a matter of common knowledge that one of the most usual ways of forcing them to embark in the business of prostitution by men who intend to profit by their becoming prostitutes, is by taking away their clothes." There was no objection to this charge on behalf of the prisoner at the time.

Heid (Galliher, J. A., dissenting) that no substantial wrong had been done to the prisoner sufficient to justify the court exercising its powers under section 1019 of the criminal code to direct a new trial.

Galliher, J. A., was of opinion that the evidence was insufficient to convict the accused, and would direct a new trial.

Mrs. Scriven, of October Mansions, will be at home on Tuesday next, February 13th.

Mrs. W. H. Bone and Miss Genevieve Bone left on the last trip of the President for a three months' trip to Los Angeles.

Will Move Stand—In consequence of the complaints which have been made by business men on Yates street, between Douglas and Blanchard streets, the existing privileges enjoyed by expressmen and owners of other vehicles will be cancelled and the street at that point will not be permitted to be used as a stand for vehicles. Aldermen Dilworth, Anderson and Beard, a special committee of the council to report upon some other location for the stand, submitted their report at last night's meeting of the council but the matter was referred to the streets committee and later when the council met as such committee the report was not discussed. The committee suggested that the complaint of the business men was well founded and that the stand be done away with but that Blanchard street, Johnson street west of Government street, and Wharf sreet be designated as stands for vehicles plying for hire.

Obliterating Prejudices

The Duke is back in Ottawa, but memories of his brief sojourn beyond the border will live to bear fruit in many minds. It is the feelings of the masses of people which, in self-governing nations, like Great Britain and her Dominions and like the United States, determine national relations. Visits such as that which has just come to a happy close tend to make these feelings more friendly and more intimate, and obliterate the last traces of prejudices that are old and prevent the growth of others. They make for common goodwill, and in so doing make for the peace and happiness of mankind.—London Times.

Points Worth Noting

Columbia Grafonola "Favorite" $65

When purchasing a Columbia sound-producing instrument, note carefully the fidelity with which it reproduces the human voice in songs or speeches—and the full, rich, musical notes in band or orchestral sections. Until you have heard the

Columbia Graphophone

You cannot realize how the Columbia people have progressed and improved their instruments in these respects.

Every note, every syllable, is faithfully rendered clearly and distinctly—indeed a perfect reproduction of the performance of the singer, speaker, band or orchestra who made the original, or master, record.

MATTERS OF MOMENT IN WOMEN'S REALM

The Daffodil Show.

The Kings Daughters will hold their third show of spring flowers on the 15th of April. This is one of the most enjoyable events of the year. Nowhere in Canada, perhaps nowhere on the continent, is there anything to be compared to the display of daffodils, primroses, lilies and all the allied species which with the fruit blossoms and wild flowers make so beautiful an exhibition. The summer flower shows, exquisite as they are, may be rivalled in other cities But only in Victoria does the first season of the year so richly repay the labors of the gardener. English people can see here the blossoms they love, each of which must call up old and sweet associations. Last year those experienced in weather lore told us that there was little difference between the season and the preceding one. It looks now as if the flowers would open earlier this year. But gardeners and flower lovers will contrive to have the most perfect blossoms ready for this date. It is to be hoped that competition will be keen, and that the show will be even more successful this year than formerly. The King's Daughters deserve well of Victoria for instituting a festival which more than any other displays the advantages of the climate.

A Woman Doctor.

Prejudices die hard, and few have been more bitter or more persistent than those against woman doctors. It has however come to be conceded both by the profession and by the public that women may fill a very useful place in the medical world. She can treat the diseases peculiar to women and children with a skill and a conscientiousness at least equal to those of her brother physicians. It must be granted that a doctor's life is so hard that it is the exceptional woman who can long endure it. But in this age of specialization, a place will be found which the woman physician can fill with honor to herself and great good to the world. In Canada Dr. Helen MacMurchy has shown that in the field of philanthropic research a woman can do very valuable work in preserving the health of children and in the protection of feebleminded women has gained for her more than a national reputation. In almost every city in America women doctors are now quietly pursuing one of the most beneficent of all callings. It is, however, among the women of the East that the sister physicians can do the most good. We cannot begin to understand in this country the great need for medical treatment there is among the women of India and China. That increasing numbers of British women will fit themselves for this work there can be no doubt.

Dr. Sophia Jex-Blake.

The story of one of the earliest medical practitioners in Great Britain, is interesting. A short time ago there died at Windydene in Sussex an old lady who more than forty years ago was brave enough to face persecution that she might be admitted to her chosen profession. Sophia Jex-Blake was the daughter of a landed proprietor and a sister of the late Dean of Wells. She must have grown to be a very clever girl for at eighteen she was mathematical teacher in Queen's College, London. In 1869 she and six other young ladies tried to obtain admission to the English University as medical students and were, of course, refused. Edinburgh University admitted them and they were allowed to study for six months without any grave interruption When, however, it was realized that the women were determined to derive full benefit from the course and obtained permission to study in the wards of the infirmary, something like a riot took place. The gates of the Surgeons Hall were slammed in their faces by a mob of students. Their cause was championed by about two dozen of the men who, forming a guard, accompanied them to and from college till the excitement died down. This was in November, 1870. The lecturers took the part of the opposing students and commanded the ladies to stay away from the lectures. This aroused the indignation of many women and the governing body of the University received a petition signed by 9,000 of them requesting that the seven students be allowed to complete their course. This was at length agreed to if the young ladies were satisfied with certificates of proficiency instead of the regular medical degree. After losing a lawsuit the women had to give up the contest. Miss Jex-Blake, however, obtained her M.D. degree in the University of Berne. She returned to Edinburgh and founded a hospital for the treatment of women's diseases and a school of medicine for women. The latter was recognized by Edinburgh University in 1894 and last July Queen Mary opened an addition to the larger premises opened some time ago.

It is ten or twelve years since Dr. Jex-Blake retired, having seen all that she contended for gained by women. One of the speakers on that occasion recalled with amusement the excitement that prevailed in the early sixties and the dire prophecies of the ruin of social fabric that were made by the opponents of the admission of women to the medical profession.

Quacks.

If the sad fate of Miss Claire Williamson and the condemnation of Mrs. Hazzard will have the effect of opening the eyes of women to the danger of trusting to ignorant medical advisers, the sacrifice of a harmless life will not have been in vain. It is to be feared however that the next pretender to a knowledge of the art of healing will find dupest as credulous as those who placed themselves in the power of Mrs. Hazzard. It is strange that women who would not allow any but a carpenter to build their houses or even trust their gardens to a man who had not learned how to till the soil, will entrust their lives to men and women who have not studied that most complicated of all machines, the human body. It is easy to understand the point of view of the man or woman who refuses medical aid altogether on the ground that Nature herself will work a cure if the patient trusts to her. But it is hard to see how anyone can think that the man who has devoted years of his life to the study of the diseases that afflict humanity and whose knowledge has been ripened by experience, is less to be trusted than one who knows nothing either of the science of medicine or of the physiology and anatomy of the body he undertakes to cure. Yet there never was a fakir so impudent that some women were not deceived by him. The cruelty and callousness shown by Mrs. Haszard are happily not common. Oftener than not those who claim to have the power of healing are self deceived. Women are wise who, before trusting their own lives or those dear to them to the ministration of such pretenders, ask themselves whether, under other circumstances they would set one of them to repair a watch, or set in order an engine, for such work is easy in comparison with the cure of a disordered human system.

CURLING CHAMPIONSHIP

Legislators To Meet Vancouver Club for B. C. Title

Two rinks skipped by Mr. Ernest Miller, the member for Grand Forks, and Mr. H. G. Parson, the member for Columbia, left for Vancouver last evening and today will play two games against the Vancouver Curling club for the championship of British Columbia. The members of the rinks are Messrs. J. P. Shaw, H. Wright, J. Jardine, H. H. Thomson, H. H. Watson and N. F. Mackay. The games will be played at the Vancouver arena, one this afternoon and the second this evening.

Illustrative of the chances for the championship—which the legislators consider are very rosy in their favor—is the fact that two of the members of the rinks mentioned above have never as much as handled the "stone."

ERNIE JOHNSON WILL LEAVE HOSPITAL TODAY

Critical Examination Shows That His Eye is Not Permanently Injured

Ernie Johnson's sight will not be permanently affected as a result of the accident suffered on Friday, February 2, when the puck inflicted a serious injury to his right eye in the Vancouver-Westminster hockey game. The specialists in charge of his case have made a critical examination of the optic, and promised the star hockeyist a complete recovery if he contains himself and is content to remain in the hospital quietly a few days longer. It is quite probable he will be out on Saturday, fit to engage in practice and in the game with Victoria at the Capital City on February 16.

The bandages were removed for good yesterday afternoon and an eye shade substituted, a little light being let into the room at the same time.

The East as well as the West was greatly interested in Johnson's case.

Doctors Gave Me Up

But "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Me

MOOREFIELD, ONT., March 25th, 1910.

"I suffered from severe indigestion and dyspepsia for nearly two years. I could not take food without fearful distress.

I could not do any work and became so run down and weak that I could hardly walk. I was attended by two experienced doctors and they both pronounced my case incurable, that they could do nothing more for me as they thought my disease was HEART FAILURE AND INCURABLE. The doctors gave me up and I looked forward for death in a short time.

At this time my son asked me to try 'FRUIT-A-TIVES,' and from the outset of taking these wonderful tablets I was better, and gradually this medicine completely cured me. I took a large number of boxes, perhaps a dozen, and now I am entirely cured and I have gained over thirty pounds in weight."

VICTORIA WINS IN CLOSE GAME

Local Hockey Team Takes Deciding Goal in Overtime Play from Vancouver Before Record Crowd

League Standing.

	W.	L.	Goals F.	Goals A.	Pct.
Victoria	4	4	45	47	.500
Vancouver	4	4	47	46	.500
Westminster	4	4	40	41	.500

In a 7½ minute overtime hockey game at the Arena last night, the Victoria team placed themselves on an even basis with the two opposing teams in the Pacific Coast League, defeating Vancouver by the close score of 5 to 4. The immense throng which witnessed the match, estimated at 3,100, was the largest crowd which the local ice palace has yet held, and the game from many standpoints was the best which the fans have had the privilege of witnessing here.

The game was exciting in the extreme, not from the standpoint of rough tactics, for it was about as clean as any of the matches to date, but as an exciting, thrilling, intensifying, evenly played game, it takes the lead. The best team won, because of their superior playing, and it was thought by many that there should have been no overtime, as was the case. The locals were ever on the aggressive and had they scored even one goal in three which they shot at Parr, the score would have been decidedly more in their favor. On several occasions the Capitals missed goals that appeared to be quite easy. Many times the forwards swept down the ice, and with clever combinations playing passed the Vancouver defence, but were unable to even touch the net. It is needless to say that Goalkeeper Parr was kept in a highly excited mood all during the game, and he was called upon to stop many hard shots. He played a good game all the time and was responsible for keeping the score down to respectable figures.

Considering the fact that the Terminals have had but little rest during the past week or two, and that the Capitals were fresh after a ten days' rest, they played a remarkably good game, considerably better than it was anticipated they would. Their forwards worked well together and the defence showed up brilliantly at times. But, well as they played, they were not able to stand the rushes of the home team. Time and time again they got the rubber at their opponent's end and made brilliant rushes through the opposing defence, but through overskating or poor shooting, failed to bulge the net. However, they were on the aggressive all the time and at different periods bombarded Parr with such rapidity that this guardian was not able to handle the onslaught.

Star Performers

There were two players on the Victoria team who deserve special mention, Tommy Dunderdale and Skinner Poulin. Dunderdale because he was responsible for five of the eight goals scored for the Capitals, and Poulin because he netted the eighth and winning goal, after a clever individual rush down the wing, bringing the rubber behind the goal, and twisting it around the goal post most scientifically. Skinner showed better form than heretofore, and although he was sent to the boards a couple of times for trivial matters, he was by no means the most deserving. In scoring the winner he pulled off a clever piece of work, and the loud cheers which came from the excited but then joyful fans, and the compliments heaped upon him by his teammates were his just deserts.

Donald Smith covered a lot of territory, and while not figuring to any great extent in the scoring table, was in a great measure responsible for the win. Bobby Rowe did not display the form he is noted in the East for, and although he got started at times, he is not doing the best yet of which he is capable, and the fans will yet look to this man for some of the game which is expected of him.

Bert Lindsay probably played the best game he has shown this year and kept his head in the tightest places. He has a great reputation, and the hockey followers have not yet seen his best work. There is no man in the League who is quicker to clear than Lindsay and his long experience in senior hockey will be a great point in favor of the Victoria team when they go East in search of the Stanley Cup. It is not possible to convince any real enthusiast in the city that the Victoria team, after last night's exhibition, will not be the team to make the trip.

Walter Smaill was in form, and his checking was swift and to the point. When in front of the nets he seemed to lose the ability to score, but his defence work was of great value to the team. Lester Patrick played his game, though not the best he is capable of, and while he, also, lost opportunities to score, he was a stumbling block in the way of the Vancouver line. He scored his usual goal, though.

The Vancouver Team

Of the Vancouver team, Frank Patrick and Newsy Lalonde were the stars. Frank was at the top of his form, and his rushes were always dangerous. He has not yet shown here as good a game as he showed tonight, and it looks as if he were rounding into the form which made him his reputation. Newsy was all over the ice, and both on the defence and the attack, his work was a feature of the evening's play. Harris showed lots of speed, and Phillips, a good shot and a tendency to loaf off-side, which should not be shown by a man of his calibre. Griffiths, with the exception of a couple of rushes, did not show much of the form he displayed in the Vancouver-Westminster game, although his checking was hard and useful. Of the balance of the team they played their game, and while not good enough to win, it was immensely interesting from the spectator's standpoint.

In the intervals between the periods, Norval Baptie, the phenomenal skater, who has delighted audiences the country over, gave exhibitions of his skill at fancy skating and of his speed, which has made him the champion of the world among the professional skaters. His performance opened the eyes of the audience to the majority of whom, the art of speed skating and the fine points of the fancy skating game, were quite new and, altogether fascinating. A few among the crowd had seen Baptie perform on eastern rinks in other years, and all agree that he is the greatest attraction that the management could bring to the city. He absolutely electrified the crowd with his "stunts" and while he was on the ice, there was no sound to be heard except the "zip" of his skates on the ice. He will appear this afternoon, tonight and on Monday.

The game started with a rush, Vancouver on the aggressive. The rubber was dashed to Victoria's end, but just as quickly returned to the opposing end. The Vancouver forwards came back with a rush and shot at Lindsay several times before the boys in stripes got possession of the puck, but Lindsay was able for them and neatly turned aside every shot.

Clean Playing

For an extraordinary long period, or what seemed such, the playing was particularly clean and free from fouls or offsides. Vancouver had slightly the better of play at the commencement of the game. Nichols was responsible for the first goal, after the teams had worked hard for 7 minutes 7 seconds. Just 13 seconds later Phillips made it two for the Terminals, scoring on a pass from Nichols. At this rather advanced juncture of the game Harris led the way to the boards for three minutes for tripping Lester Patrick. Dunderdale commenced the scoring for Victoria, when he poked the puck into the net from a scrimmage in front of the goal. Time 50sec. Poulin off for three minutes. Skinner got busy just as soon as he got back into the game again and scored the fourth goal of the game and the second for the locals, in 7.12, on a neat pass from Smith, who had taken the rubber into the corner of the rink, having advanced two goals, the score standing 4 all.

The third period was full of clever plays and fast neat work for both teams. By this time the fans had become greatly excited, and made their presence known, with a shriek from the ladies when the rubber came dangerously near the home goal, and a joyful outbreak from everyone when a goal or a near goal went against Vancouver. Lalonde off for tripping. Frank Patrick scored the first in this period in 1.16 after getting through the local defence with a neat individual rush. Nichols made it six for his team, in 3.20, scoring on a rebound from Lindsay's pads. Tommy Dunderdale put new hope into the fans when he commenced the scoring for the Capitals, on a pass from Lester Patrick. Time 1.24. Harris off for tripping. Poulin off.

Dunderdale Scores.

Smaill got possession of the rubber, and sifot a swift one at Parr, who stopped it, but on the rebound Dunderdale bulged the nets. Time 1.20. Dunderdale off for tripping Phillips. The next went to Vancouver in 1.15, Phillips being responsible on a pass from Nichols, putting Vancouver one goal in the lead. But this was not for long, although long enough to put the fans in an uneasy state of mind. Dunderdale evened it up once again in scoring his fifth goal during the game, in 2.15. Thus the third period ended with the score 7-all. During the few minutes overtime the locals pressed hard, and had the better of the fight. Si Griffis went off for holding Smith and Nichols went to the boards for tripping. Poulin made himself the adoration sinner. Poulin made himself the adoration of the fans when after the puck had been tossed from side to side for more than seven minutes during which time excitement reigned supreme, he took the rubber down the wing unassisted and after drawing Parr from his goal scored the eighth goal for Victoria and subsequently the winner. Time 7.16.

Rugby Players of James Bay and Municipality Agree on a Rest—Law Students Meet Surveyors at Oak Bay 3 p.m.

As the James Bay-Oak Bay rugby game has been postponed by mutual agreement of both clubs, the Law Students and Surveyors will provide the only attraction in that line of sport today. What is the cause of the postponement is not announced, but the Surveyors will be left the interesting task of trying to defeat the Students, who have been conquered by none and have won from all. If he Surveyors cannot register an impression today, it looks as if the cream of the city league were reserved for the lawyers.

For an organization that was only formed this season, the career of the Law Students' team has been one that is seldom equalled. Even before the city league was formed, when they had to go out and look for their opponents, there was no team which could put up a win against it and now its spotless winning streak continues. The Surveyors have been defeated by them before and if the outdoor men do not show more form in the back division today, their chances are not rosy. The Students are envied by all the teams of the city, and it would please many, no doubt, if some fifteen could take them down a notch. However, the Lawyers have won on their merits and merit-counts.

The teams:

Law Students—Fullback, Boggs; threequarters, Martin, Ogden, Stewart, Galliher; halfbacks, Morton and Shires; forwards, Monteith, Mulligan, (captain), Norris, White, H. Ross, Yeoman, W. Ross and one other.

The Surveyors line-up—Fullback, Williams; threequarters, Meredith, Gillespie, Rolston and Allen; halfbacks, A. Gillespie, and Rich; forwards, R. Gillespie, J. S. Benson, G. Milliganñ Jones, Buss, Simpson and R. M. Benson. Reserve, Routh.

COUNTY COURT JUDGE FOR KOOTENAY

Mr. George H. Thompson Receives Appointment—Attorney-General to Take Up the Question of Salaries

Mr. George H. Thompson of Cranbrook has been appointed county court judge for the county of Kootenay, in succession to his honor, Judge Wilson, resigned, and will at once enter upon his new judicial duties.

Mr. Thompson has practiced in Cranbrook during the past ten years and is well known to almost every resident of East Kootenay. He was born in Toronto in 1871, received his foundational education at the public schools and collegiate institute there, studied then for a time in England and completed his education at Toronto University. He was called to the bar in 1895, practicing for a time in Toronto with Mr. J. W. St. John, afterwards speaker of the Ontario legislature. Mr. Thompson migrated to Vancouver in 1900, joining the legal firm of Martin & Deacon, of which Mr. Joseph Martin, K.C., M.P., was the senior partner. Afterwards he removed to Grand Forks, where he was for a short time in partnership with Mr. Ernest Miller, M.P.P. From Grand Forks he passed on to Nelson, affiliating with the firm of Galliher & Wilson (Mr. Galliher being now the Hon. Mr. Justice Galliher of the Appellate court), and from Nelson to Sandon, finally coming to anchor at Cranbrook in 1902. Since the incorporation of Cranbrook he has acted as city solicitor, the duties of which office will now be assumed by ex-Judge Wilson—a mutually satisfactory exchange of responsibilities being thus involved.

Insufficient Salary

The people of the Kootenay are to be congratulated upon Mr. Thompson's acceptance of judicial cares, growing difficulty being experienced in inducing thoroughly competent and experienced members of the bar to accept promotion to the county court bench, by reason almost altogether of the insufficiency of the salary attached to such judgeships, the stipend being decidedly disproportionate to the average earnings at the bar of an established practitioner, and inadequate also the western cost of living.

Various suggestions have from time to time been advanced as to the proper course to be pursued, in rectifying existing unsatisfactory conditions, some leaders at the bar even going so far as to suggest the entire abolishment of the county courts as they exist in British Columbia, the creation of a number of new supreme court judgeships, the assignment of supreme court judges to residence in the various districts—as the Kootenay, Kamloops, Nanaimo, Skeena, etc.—and such division and diminution of supreme court work to such individual judges as will make it possible and practicable for the supreme court judges to take over the county court work, all actions in which lesser sums than $100 are involved going of course to the magisterial small debts courts.

Certain it is that some drastic reformation with respect to the county courts in British Columbia has been disclosed in recent practice to be imperatively necessary, and it is understood to be the intention of the attorney-general to take up with the minister of justice at the earliest opportunity this perplexing problem in all its complications.

ENFORCEMENT OF LIQUOR LAW

mo, the Goldstream house alone as yet boasts possession of its unconditionally renewed license for 1912.

Within the cities, disregard of certain salient features of the provincial law have latterly become so notoriously patent that the Good Government League is seeking provincial action to compel municipal enforcement of the statute law. In both Victoria and Vancouver—and other cities besides—a number of licensed hotels are known to operate almost exclusively as assignation houses, with no pretence of compliance with the requirements named for hotel license privileges. These places are notorious traps for young girls and the reverse of valuable as factors in the attraction of or catering to tourist visitors.

Civic Indifference

The friends of morality and true temperance, which is distinct from prohibition, are asking, if civic indifference to the existence and offending of these places be continued, that the attorney-general adopt compelling measures.

Interesting information as to what the provincial police have been doing during 1911 and still are doing in the discharge of that portion of their responsibilities arising under the Liquor Act, 1910, is disclosed in an annual report just made to Attorney-General Bowser by Superintendent Colin S. Campbell. From this report it is seen that the total number of provincially issued liquor licenses of all classes was at the beginning of the current year 343, an increase of but eleven over 1910—in no way proportionate to the growth of population in the unorganized districts within the period. The actual total of licenses is, indeed, reduced, for during 1911 ten licenses were cancelled or renewal applications were refused, and five other licenses lapsed. The number of licenses thus extinguished in 1910 was 46.

The license roll for 1911 shows 278 hotel licenses, as compared with 273 in 1910; six wholesale licenses, an unchanged total; eight brewers' licenses, an increase of one; 33 steamer licenses, an advance of three; and 18 railway licenses, an increase of two.

Short Term Renewals

Long established houses which have been granted renewals for three months only, this period expiring on the 31st proximo, unless accommodations are brought fully up to legal standard by that date, include the Pink Un, Talbot and Tunnel hotels of Nanaimo; the Oak Dell House at Colwood; the Half Way House at Northfield; the well-known Somass Hotel at Port Alberni; Howard's Hotel at Esquimalt; the Summit Hotel, Crow's Nest; Central Hotel, Ainsworth; Grant Hotel, Minstrel Island; Hot Springs Hotel, Ainsworth; Kootenay Falls Hotel, Ymir; Spokane Hotel, Midway; Premier Hotel, Queen Charlotte; Bellevue Hotel, Mission City; Michel Hotel, Michel; Colonial Hotel, Soda Creek; Sochelt Hotel, Sechelt; Wilson Hotel, Union Bay; Commercial Hotel, Abbotsford; Telkwa Hotel, Aldermere; Hazelton Hotel, Hazelton; Bridesville Hotel, Bridesville; New Zealand Hotel, Hedley; Madden House, Trout Creek; Miner House, Ymir; Shuswap Hotel, Shuswap; Great Northern, New Michel; Omineca Hotel, Hazelton; Heriot Hotel, Heriot Bay; Australian Hotel, Morirsey; Windsor Hotel, Van Anda; City Hotel, Revelstoke; Huntingdon Hotel, Huntingdon; Railroad Hotel, Yale; Dog Creek Hotel, Dog Creek; Edgewood Hotel, Edgewood; Ashcroft Hotel, Ashcroft; Bellevue Hotel, Okanagan Mission; and Wallachin Hotel, Wallachin.

During 1911 50 applications in all for hotel licenses were considered and dealt with, but 16 of these being granted and 24 refused, while action was deferred in nine cases, and one of the applications suddenly withdrawn. Refusals were ordered at Queen Charlotte, Discovery Road, Wardner, Westbridge, Sheep Creek, Bitter Creek (Stewart), South Fort George, West Bank, Bitter Creek Townsite (Stewart), 23 miles south of Hope, Soad Creek, Cariboo Road, Carmi, Kitsumkalum, Steamboat, Bulkeley Valley, Breckendale, Hope, Savona, Sooke, Goose Bay (Observatory Inlet), Aldermere Road, Glentanna and Salmon River.

Licenses Cancelled

The existing licenses cancelled during the year or of which renewals were refused, included those for the Clinton and Dominion Hotels at Clinton, the latter in connection with a case of inhumanity, with the details of which the public is familiar. In two other cases cancellations were decided upon because of the markedly intemperate habits of the licensees. The list of cancellations, in addition to the Clinton hotels, covers the Ashnola Hotel, Ashnola; Victoria Hotel, Silverton (destroyed by fire); Squamish Hotel, Squamish; Newmarket Hotel, Vowes Denver; Moodyville Hotel, Port Moody; Allison Hotel, Allison; Park Hotel, near Hedley; and San Juan Hotel, Port Renfrew.

The record of prosecutions and convictions under the act, in the unorganized districts, during 1911, shows a total of 103 prosecutions, in which 86 convictions were obtained—a very high percentage indeed, informations being withdrawn in six instances, and only eleven defendants securing the dismissal of the charges preferred against them. The cases of selling liquor without license ("boot-leggers" and "blind piggers") numbered 45; of Sunday liquor trading, 12; of having possession of liquor for the purposes of sale, 15; of selling more than one imperial quart in a single transaction, 7; of selling to Indians, 3; and of supplying to interdicts, 6; in addition to which three licensees were heavily fined for allowing poker to be played on their premises, and one for not allowing unobstructed Sunday view of his bar premises.

It is a noteworthy fact that in five of the six cases of selling to interdicts, dismissals were secured, while in the sixth case the offender escaped on mere payment of costs. Four of those against whom proceedings were taken left the country with marked suddenness upon receipt of court invitations; in upwards of sixty cases alternative sentences of imprisonment, in terms ranging from two to nine months, were imposed; and a total of $14,675 was collected in fines, exclusive of court costs.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Woman and Her World

Moving House.

I do not think there is any problem in a housemistress' work which requires more thought and organization than "moving house." Unless it is carefully planned it will mean considerable discomfort and annoyance not to say loss of temper on the part of even the most placid people. Whether you are going to move from one town to another or whether the removal is only into the next road, the same system should be used, and the word "system" embraces everything. It can all be condensed into four principal points, first, windows; second, lighting; third, floor covering; fourth, furniture.

Point 1—Windows: I know nothing more trying than to arrive at one's new homestead where the windows are bare for all the outside world to peep in. If there are to be roller blinds, let them be put up beforehand, the pole for curtains being fixed in readiness for such draperies as you choose to allot to each room. If the windows are of the casement type, make the curtains well beforehand so that they can be hung on to the rods in a few minutes. Anything is better than the undraped window when you are "moving in," and the substitution of newspapers for blinds pro tem is but a poor one, and does not speak well for the housewife's management.

Point 2—Lighting: It is absolute misery to move into an unlighted house. Not so very long ago I had a case in point. A friend of mine moving into a new house had not seen to this and the abode was in absolute darkness. I had to supply her with all the candles and lights I could muster. In the country where neither gas, nor electricity obtains, there should be an ample supply of paraffin and candles sent on ahead with which to banish the spirits of darkness. A country house might be a bit ghosty without them.

Point 3—Floor coverings: This point is one of great consideration. In sitting rooms and bedrooms the carpets, having been cleaned, should be laid down before the furniture is put into place, but the carpet on the stairs and the linoleum in the hall and kitchen should be left till long afterwards. Think of the traffic up and down the staircase. Think of the unpacking of glass, china, cooking utensils and so forth in the kitchen.

Point 4, is the most important point of all. To begin with make a rough plan of your new house and decide in your own mind where every piece of furniture is to go. Get some labels and fix them to each piece and make out a list for the furniture removers in accordance with them. If the men have this to go by it will simplify their work immensely, and will also economise time. It should be decided beforehand where the heaviest pieces of furniture are to be placed, such as the sideboard in the diningroom, the piano in the drawingroom, and the beds and wardrobes in each bedroom.

The mistress of the house should, if possible, arrive at the new abode before the furniture, as she can always solve any dubious point, but she should arm herself with a substantial luncheon basket, to say nothing of a little special box of provisions for the sustenance of her household; as nothing to my mind is more exasperating than having to send a servant out for provisions when the furniture movers are in full swing.

ENGLISH WORKMEN ARE DISSATISFIED

London Paper Calls Attention to Danger of Many Stopping Work on Account of Conditions—Plague of Tramps

In a little corner of the Lincolnshire woods lives the Rev. G. Hall, rector of Ruckland, known as the Romany Rashai, or Gypsy parson. He has become quite an apostle to the gypsy tribe, and few men have so thoroughly won the confidence of these nomads, in whose manners and customs he is a past master. He speaks the old Romany tongue, and on his visits to fairs and encampments almost adopts gypsy attire, so that more than once his unconventional appearance has caused him to be mistaken for the real thing and treated accordingly. An enthusiastic member of the Gypsy Lore Society, he is to be seen squatting in a ring of swarthy Romany folk around their firm on Epsom Downs or on the breezy fells of Yorkshire sampling the mysterious contents of their black stockpot, in order to gather fragments of the fast disappearing lore and traditional tales of the Romany folk, of whom he is able to recount numberless racy stories.

Bitter complaints is being made from many parts of rural England regarding othe increasing plague of tramps. There are crowds of men in prison, sent there for trivial offences, and it is believed that these vagabonds find life in jail so congenial during the winter months that they commit offences deliberately in order to get locked up, and so obtain free housing and food. The suggestion is made that it is only the pressure of Parliamentary business that prevents consideration of the question, as there is excellent authority for believing that the government are considering proposals for trying to deal with the younger tramp before he becomes hardened to the degraded existence.

An adventurous and romantic voyage is about to be commenced from Devonshire, from whence an intrepid Norwegian sailor intends to attempt to sail to Durban, a distance of six thousand miles in a boat of only thirty-three tons burden, and probably the oldest vessel to be found in Lloyd's register. The boat has already completed 100 years' service. There will only be five persons aboard to navigate the tiny ship, and the voyagers hope to reach their destination in about 80 days.

SPEAKERS ARRESTED

Hundred Policemen Called Out in San Diego to Check So-Called "Free Speech" Demonstration

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 9.—One hundred policemen were called out last night to check a demonstration of opponents of the anti-free-speech ordinance which went into effect today. Five thousand persons gathered on intersections of the principal streets and cheered as one speaker after another mounted improvised forums, only to be taken into custody and marched off to jail.

Fifty arrests were made in all, and for a time the city jail was crowded almost to capacity with those who claimed they would rather be in prison than submit to what they term is the tyranny of the city officials. They intend to test the constitutionality of the new law.

The above plan shows fourteen lots which have just been put on the market. They are nice, high, grassy lots facing east and commanding an exceptionally splendid view of Oak Bay, the Straits and Mount Baker. They are, each 50x130 with a 15-foot lane at the back. The double corners can be purchased for $3,000 and the inside lots $1,250 each. The terms are one-third cash, balance 6, 12, 18 and 24 months. Let us show you this property before all of the lots are sold.

ASSOCIATION SEEKS CIVIC ASSISTANCE

Good Work of Inner Harbor Association Meets with Approval of City Council—Oak Bay Sewer Agreement

Pointing out the importance of the work being carried out by the Inner Harbor association in respect to harbor development Mr. Thomas Sorby, secretary of the association, sought of the city a grant of $500 towards the work of the association. His communication came before the city council at last night's meeting of that body and general expression of gratification at the good results of the association's labors was voiced by members of the council. The request for the grant was referred to the finance committee of the council.

Mr. Sorby stated that it was mainly by the insistence of the association in securing the promise of the late government that an independent engineer was sent here to inquire into the needs of this port and that at no time has the association spared either time or expense in endeavoring to secure the improvement of the harbor. Personally, he felt that the great object of his life is safely maturing and will become one of the most valuable assets of the city of Victoria.

The draft of the agreement between the city and Oak Bay relative to the construction of the main trunk sewer to run from the city limits southerly to Shoal Bay was submitted by the city solicitor and approved. During the discussion it was suggested that the liability on the part of Oak Bay to carry out the work promptly was not sufficiently set forth and that the municipality might not do its share of the work as expeditiously as promised.

Read Agreement

City Solicitor McDiarmid read the agreement which he believed fully safeguarded the city. It was not, he thought, in keeping with the dignity of the council to hint that Oak Bay would not carry out its part of the agreement, or to delay construction come forward with some fake excuse for such delay.

The recommendation of the sewers committee, the chairman of which is Alderman Humber, were considered at length. Tenders will be called for the necessary scond class sewer pipe for surface drainage purposes as well as for four air compressors for rock drilling, the latter at an estimated cost of $9000. Bids for a horse and rig to be used for the delivery of tools on sewer works will also be called for and the building inspector will be asked to prepare plans for a central blacksmith shop to be erected on the new yard recently acquired by the city at Rock Bay not to exceed $3500 in cost. Further the present practice of hauling sewer pipe from the B. C. Pottery company's plant in Victoria West to the city yard on Chambers street, there to be jointed to streets whereon sewers are being constructed, will be discontinued. An arrangement will be come to with the company whereunder a shed will be erected on the company's premises and the jointing will be done there, thus saving much hauling of pipe. The saving by this method is estimated at two and one-half cents per foot of pipe on the delivery.

AT HALF TIME

Manager Wattelet has been on the sick list the last couple of days and hasn't been feeling sufficient well to attend to his mail. Hence the depression on news.

The Victoria West team to meet the Sons of England has been chosen as follows: Goal, Robertson; fullbacks, Isbister and Warnicker; halfbacks, Okell, Petticrow and McDonald; forwards, Sherrett, Youson, Peden, Prevost and Brown.

Bob Whyte, the old West fullback is not playing soccer these days, but is getting back into form at the Y. M. C. A. in basketball. Bob is one of the best basketball players this city has produced in many a day, when he is in shape, and that is most all the time.

Two weeks from today, the Native Sons-Old Country game will be played. All other leagues will declare a holiday for the occasion and go out and see the grand old battle. Last season the match was a three-all draw. Remember that goal of Frank Sweeney's Frank expects some more cigars this year.

The team that first conquers the Law Students will be looked upon as wonders. The students have not met with a defeat, but several snags in the way of better trained opponents appear as the season grows old.

Following the announcement from this city, Jack Johnson states that he is willing to meet Tommy Burns any time. The purse would be for $30,000 for Johnson, win lost or draw. Jack always looks out for Jack.

Johnson may appear at the Fairmont A. C. in New York shortly for a ten-round go. His opponent has not been named.

Joe Zahner, the champion American newsboy, has arrived in Seattle from San Francisco, and will be the guest of the Newsboys' union for one week. He will then go to Vancouver, B. C., to work on the Vancouver Sun.

The Pacific coast tryouts for the American Olympic team take place May 18 at the Stanford track, Palo Alto.

According to a dispatch from Harry Barnard, Joe Bayley's trainer, the champion will not be able to box again for two months. He injured his hand in the Decoursey bout and Harry will not allow him to take a chance until it is thoroughly healed.

Norval Baptie, the speed marvel, who skated at the Arena last night, is anxious to clear all doubts as to the records claimed by Lamy and Wood. He is going to round them up after the present tour and race them.

The North Ward Junior hockey team, which will meet the High school in the closing city league match of the season at North Ward Park, will be selected from the following: Knox, Cummings, Sherrett, Williams, Hole, Fisher, Humber, Ledingham, Duncan Dinsdale, Wales and Petticrew.

CARRIED TO SEA

While Hundreds Watched Helpless Mexican Drifted Away in Derelict Power Schooner

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 9.—While hundreds lined the shore at Ensenada witnessing the storm yesterday afternoon, the power schooner Olympia was torn from her moorings and carried out to sea. Jesus Gonzales, a Mexican caretaker, ignorant of the way of handling a vessel, crawled to the deck and beckoned imploringly to the helpless spectators for aid. The schooner was soon carried out of sight.

Capt. Eaton of the power boat Kea, arriving here today, reported sighting the upper works of the Olympia drifting off the coast. There is little doubt that Gonzales perished.

A reinforced concrete wharf at Ensenada, costing $75,000, was carried out today by the force of the storm.

Problems Enough

"The coming of Orientals to Canada, whether from India or from China or from Japan, aggravates the already vexed problem of democratic self-government in this country. British Columbia, with its very small population of varied peoples not yet well organized, has obstacles enough in its path to sound and staple government without adding the still more difficult task of making political citizens of thousands of Orientals whose whole history and life have been utterly undemocratic."—Toronto "Globe."

Carl Quatalle, a Finn, was run over by a C.P.R. train near West Robson recently and apparently instantly killed. The unfortunate man was completey decapitated.

RESTORER TO REPAIR CABLE

Break in Deep Sea Wires Near Midway Island Results in Repair Steamer Being Ordered to Southern Isle

LEAVES FOR BREMERTON DRYDOCK TOMORROW

Steamer Unable to Get Into Esquimalt Dock — Pacific Cable Station May be Moved from Banfield to Vancouver

The cable-repairing steamer Restorer has been ordered to Midway island owing to a break in the transpacific cable in the vicinity of the little southern isle which is one of the cable stations of the deep-sea cable, which extends from San Francisco to Manila via Honolulu, Midway and Guam. The Restorer, Capt. Basil Combe, is now preparing for her voyage to repair the cable after lying at anchor for some years at Esquimalt. Owing to the Esquimalt drydock being occupied by the damaged steamer Strathalbyn, which will be there for seven or eight days more when she will be moved to the wharf of the B. C. Marine Railway Company the Restorer will leave tomorrow for Bremerton to enter the United States drydock there to be overhauled for the trip south. After completing repairs to the cable the Restorer will return to Esquimalt, where she is stationed. Not for many years has the Restorer had to move from her anchorage here owing to the necessity of repairs to the cable; in fact, since she came here from Honolulu some years ago the Restorer has been taken from the harbor twice, once to lay a cable for the Western Union Company across the Strait, and to lay a cable for the B. C. Telephone Company in the Gulf. When the orders came despatching the cable-repair steamer to Midway to repair a break near there arrangements were being made for the installation of powerful wireless telegraph apparatus on the vessel.

The cable-repair steamer Iris of the British Pacific cable company, which is stationed in the Antipodes, is now engaged in surveying a route for a cable between Australia and New Zealand to, to link Auckland and Sydney with operative terminals in the chief telegraph office in each city.

It is reported that arrangements are now being made by the Pacific cable board for the transfer of the Banfield creek cable station to Vancouver.

INSPECTOR COMING TO INSPECT BEACONS

Will Make Voyage on the Quadra—Sandheads Lightship Will be Moved

Mr. Macdonnell, inspector of lights and gas beacons, is now en route here from Ottawa, and is expected to reach Victoria about the middle of next week to make a tour of inspection in British Columbia waters. The government steamer Quadra, which is expected shortly from northern waters, will carry Mr. Macdonnell on his voyage of inspection.

The Sandheads lightship is shortly to be moved. The position of the acetylene gas beacon off the entrance to the Fraser river and the lightship's present position are to be reversed, and it is probable that a diaphone fog alarm will be placed on the lightship. The change will aid navigators considerably in making the entrance to the Fraser river, the changed position of the lightship giving them a better departure.

The material for the construction of the new lighthouse at Sherringham Point, for which Mr. Thomas Stedham, was awarded the contract, is now being assembled, and it is expected that a start will be made in building the cement tower in a few days.

The construction of the echo boards being placed at points in the Narrows at Vancouver to facilitate navigation there in foggy weather will be completed about February 25th.

TEES RETURNS FROM WEST COAST

Brought News of Drowning Accident at Holberg—Tofino Residents Object Removal of Telegraph Office

The steamer Tees, Capt. Gillam, of the C. P. R., reached port yesterday morning from Holberg and way ports of the west coast of Vancouver Island, and will sail again tonight for Clayoquot and way ports. Including a number of Indian deck passengers, the steamer brought 125 persons from coast ports and a small cargo, including 100 tons of pottery clay from the pits at Easy Creek, Kyuquot Sound.

News was brought of a drowning in the river near Holberg by the Tees. The name of the victim was not learned by those on board the steamer. He was one of the men employed on the road near the river, and was sent to remove a log which had jammed. He took a boat and was seen to step from this on the log, which turned, and he fell into the water, nothing being seen of him afterward.

From Tofino the steamer brought brought news of a public meeting held on February 1 to protest against the proposed removal of the telegraph office from Tofino to Stubbs Island.

It was pointed out that Stubbs Island possesses only a store, hotel and saloon, and is almost exclusively private property located a mile from the mainland. Tofino is the centre of population, having schoolhouse, customs house, life-saving station, store and machine shops, and is the port of entry. The following resolution was carried by a majority of 36 to 1:

"Whereas it is understood that the department of public works, Ottawa, has been requested to discontinue the telegraph office at Tofino, and remove the same to Stubbs Island, and, whereas Tofino is the land terminal of the government telegraph line from Alberni; and whereas there are two channels of deep water between Stubbs Island and Tofino, necessitating the use of cables with four connections with the land wires, which renders these cables very liable to grounding, thus demoralizing, for an indefinite period, the whole telegraph system of Clayoquot district; and whereas Tofino is the centre of settlement on Clayoquot Sound, having a public wharf invariably used by the government and all other steamers when lying in port, a rural school with full attendance, a customs and shipping office, the life-saving station, manned by residents of Tofino, and a public hall used for religious and social purposes; and whereas the residents of Lowe peninusla and Tofino, who contribute chiefly to the revenue derived from tolls in this district, would be materially affected and greatly inconvenienced by the change requested; and whereas the request of the owner of Stubbs Island to the late federal government for telephone connection with the mainland at Tofino had been favorably considered and generously granted him, notwithstanding that Stubbs Island is recognized private property; and whereas this privilege, with all its conveniences to this private owner, remains secure with him to this day.

Therefore, we, the undersigned, residents of Lowe peninsula, Tofino and Clayoquot Sound, in special meeting called this first day of February, 1912, do humbly request of the department of public works, Ottawa, through our representative, Mr. Clements, M.P., that the telegraph office continue to remain at Tofino as heretofore, and further be it resolved that copies of this petition be sent to the Dominion and provincial members for the district, the department of public works, Ottawa, the superintendent of telegraphs at Victoria, and to the press.

ANOTHER LIBEL ON STEAMER VIRGINIAN

Owners of the Strathalbyn Make Claim for $100,000 More on Behalf of Owners and Insurers of Cargo

Another libel suit for $100,000 against the American-Hawaiian liner Virginian was filed at Seattle yesterday by the Strathalbyn Steamship company, owners of the steamer Strathalbyn, which was damaged in collision with the Virginian Friday night, January 12.

The action is the fourth to be filed as a result of the collision. Immediately following the disaster the owners of the Strathalbyn libeled the Virginian for $160,000 for alleged damages to their vessel. A cross suit for $100,000 was filed by the owners of the Virginian. Early this week two sailors of the Strathalbyn filed libel against the Virginian for $1022 to cover loss of personal effects and for personal injuries.

The action filed yesterday is brought by the Strathalbyn Steamship company in behalf of the owners and insurers of the cargo of lumber carried on the steamer at the time of the collision. The papers in the case set forth that the Strathalbyn carried a lumber cargo of 3,563,011 feet for delivery at Sydney, N. S. W.

The company alleges that by reason of the collision, which was the fault of the Virginian, it was necessary to discharge the lumber from the Strathalbyn; that part of the lumber was damaged by water and that great expense has been caused by delay and rehandling. By the time further expense is added by restowing and by the time the lumber reaches its port of delivery, according to the papers, it will not be in as good condition as when originally stowed on the Strathalbyn. For all these conditions the owners of the Strathalbyn ask $100,000 damages.

In the papers filed yesterday the owners of the Strathalbyn again recite the particulars of the collision between the two vessels. The complaint says specifically that the Strathalbyn's lights were burning brightly and were seen by the Flyer only a few seconds before meeting the Virginian.

The Strathalbyn is at present on the drydock at Esquimalt. The Virginian is completing repairs in Seattle.

SUVERIC WILL REACH PORT TODAY

Big Weir Liner Bringing Large Cargo From Manila and Way Ports of the Far East

The steamer Suveric, Capt. Cowley, of the Weir line, which left Yokohama on January 24, and was expected in port yesterday, will not dock at the outer wharf until this morning. The Suveric, which has made a long trip across the Pacific, has a big cargo, including 9085 bags of hemp from the Philippines and 100 bales of raw silk. The freight of the steamer totals 4681 tons, of which 2680 tons is for distribution at coast ports and 1821 for overland points.

Hope is asking the government for $10,000 for sidewalks and general street improvements.

SWEDISH LINE TO RUN HERE

Nord Stjarnan Steamship Co, Proposes Service from Gothenburg via Panama—Sir Owen Phillips on Trade

The Swedish Nord Stjarnan Steamship Company is the latest concern to announce that it intends to establish a line to the North Pacific coast via the Panama canal. The Swedish line will run from Gothenberg to Puget Sound, probably calling at Victoria, via San Francisco. It is proposed to follow the example of the Harrison-Direct and Maple Leaf lines and establish a service via the Straits of Magellan pending the opening of the Panama canal. The company is now preparing to buy or build steamers for this line. With the build steamers for this line. With the opening of the Panama canal it is anticipated that thousands of immigrants from northern Europe will come direct to the ports of the North Pacific coast, and the Swedish company proposes to get into line to bid for a share of this traffic as well as the cargo trade.

Sir Owen Phillips, M. P., chairman of the Royal Mail Steam Packet line, which is announced to establish a line from Europe via the Panama canal to Victoria and Vancouver, and to send its Glen or Shire steamers across the Pacific to connect with the vessels from Europe, in an interview said: "Direct communication between the eastern and western seaboards of Canada and America will be a godsend to those who suffer at present from the tyranny of railway freights."

The sea route from New York to China and Japan now lies through Suez, and the new canal will shorten that journey considerably. There can be no doubt that the Pacific coast of South America will be opened up to the commerce of the United States as it never was before, and one may expect a considerable increase in the trade between those regions and all North American ports."

Touching on the question of the canal's effect on British shippers, Sir Owen said there had been a good deal of loose talk about the toll rights of the canal. Under the treaty there was to be no differentiation in favor of the ships of any flag, but some Americans thought an exemption from all tolls might be granted to the American coasting trade.

"This," said Sir Owen, "would include all vessels sailing, say, from New York to San Francisco, but as all the American coast trade is at present confined by law to American bottoms, I fail to see how British shipping would suffer under such an arrangement any more than it does at present.

Not Making Ready

"A place whose trade should profit considerably is Kingstown, Jamaica. Up to the present no preparation has been made to take advantage of the new conditions, but I sincerely hope the people of Jamaica will waken up before it is too late.

"Judged on the narrow view of the divided-yielding project," continued Sir Owen, "it can hardly be imagined that the canal will afford the United States an economic return for the seventy millions expended upon it. The real return will be in the increased trade which it must inevitably bring to America.

"This opens up the wider consideration whether a great waterway like the canal should be subject to tolls at all. Just as our roads and ocean highways are free to all, so there is a growing weight of opinion that great canals such as this should be thrown open to the commerce of the world."

Such a principle, said Sir Owen in conclusion, was only a corollary of free trade itself, and as the Americans stood to reap a comparatively small dividend upon their gigantic outlay, it was a question whether it would be a better policy to exact nothing except the actual upkeep of the undertaking, allowing the canal to be as free and devoid of exactions as the broad highways of the ocean itself.

The New York Chamber of Commerce has taken a stand in opposition to the chambers of United States ports on the Pacific, and opposes the granting of free passage through the Panama canal to United States shipping. The chamber recommends that a toll of $1 per ton be charged on all shipping using the canal. The New York chamber contends that the United States cannot discriminate against foreign shipping without violating numerous treaty agreement, notably the Clayton Bulwer treaty of 1850 with Great Britain.

It is also asserted by the New York chamber that the canal tolls should be fixed with a view toward meeting the interest on the bonds issued to build it, creating a sinking fund to retire the bonds at maturity, and paying for the upkeep of the canal. Enough revenue to do this probably cannot be raised by a toll of $1 a ton at present, but the increasing volume of business through the canal in a few years ought to do so, it is claimed.

Suez Canal Charges

The report points out that the Suez Canal, although owned jointly by England and France, charges the same rates to all vessels. This rate was first fixed at $3 a registered ton, but has been steadily reduced until it is now $1.20 per ton, which yields an immense profit, the cost of the Suez Canal having been trivial compared with the expense of the Panama enterprise, and the cost of operation much less.

It is estimated by the New York chamber that the interest on bonds issued to build the Panama canal will be $11,000,000 annually, and the cost of upkeep will be approximately $3,500,000 a year. At a toll rate of $1 a ton, the canal would have to handle 14,500,000 tons annually to meet these charges. The best estimates of tonnage which will pass through the canal in the years immediately following its completion are about 8,000,000 tons a year, so that even the $1 toll will not pay for the canal and its maintenance for the immediate future, but when business increases sufficiently, these charges will be paid and a sinking fund provided as well.

D. R. Dearborn, president of the American Hawaiian Steamship Company, which is the largest shipper at present using the Tehuantepec route, in an authorized interview several weeks ago declared that American shippers could afford to pay a reasonable toll through the canal, as they are protected by law in the exclusive right to handle cargoes and passengers between American ports.

The contention of commercial organizations on the Pacific coast, in the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, has been for free tolls to American shipping, which would act as a subsidy to encourage shipping in American vessels not only between American ports, but in all trade that passes through the canal.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of the lowest low water in each month of the year. This level is half a foot lower than the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are reduced.

GIN PILLS BROUGHT QUICK RELIEF

GIN PILLS are enjoying an enormous sale in many parts of the United States. Here is a letter from Whitby, Indiana, U.S.A., which proves how GIN PILLS cured a most severe attack of Rheumatism. Jan. 20th, 1911.

"Please send me a box of GIN PILLS for which find enclosed money order for fifty cents. When I sent for the last box, I was all crippled up with Rheumatism, and my face was so badly swollen that I could hardly see out of my eyes. After taking about six GIN PILLS, I felt better and after a few more days' treatment, I had no more pain. I never intend to be without Gin Pills."

"Our Personal Advice to all Skin Sufferers"

C. H. Bowes & Co., Druggist.

We have been in business in this town for some time, and we are looking to build up trade by always advising our patrons right.

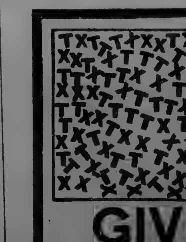

So when we tell you that we have found the effective eczema remedy you can depend upon it that we give our advice not in order to sell a few bottles of medicine to skin sufferers, but because we know how it will help our business if we help our patrons.

We keep in stock and sell all the well known skin remedies. But we will say this: If you are suffering from any kind of skin trouble, eczema, psoriasis, rash or tetter, we want you to try a full size bottle of D. D. D. Prescription.

Again and again we have seen how a few drops of this simple wash applied to the skin takes away the itch instantly. And the cures all seem permanent.

D. D. D. Prescription made by the D. D. D. Laboratories of Toronto, is composed of thymol, glycerine, oil of wintergreen, and other healing, soothing, cooling ingredients. And if you are just crazy with the itch, you will feel soothed and cooled, the itch absolutely washed away the moment you apply this D. D. D.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this remedy to a skin sufferer here and there and we want you to try it now.

IF you want to make money, buy lots in Port Hardy, the Northern Terminus of the Vancouver Island railways.

IN January, 1893 (vide Victoria Times, January 17th, 1893), we had for sale the Townsite of Duluth at Duncan Bay, now the reported northern terminus of the E. & N. railway. Clients who purchased lots will reap the benefit of the advice we gave them to invest in Duluth.

NOW we advise the purchase of lots in Port Hardy at Hardy Bay, the future northern terminus of the railway systems on Vancouver Island.

JUST look at the map: the strategic commercial advantages of Port Hardy will be at once apparent to you. A magnificent harbor on the route of all steamers to Alaska, Seattle, etc. One day nearer the Orient than Vancouver. Steamers by loading passengers and freight at this point can save one day, and soon the British Pacific Railway via Bute Inlet will be operated from Edmonton to Port Hardy via Seymour Narrows.

THE deep sea fishery steamers will land their fish at Port Hardy and save the run to Vancouver and return of over 400 miles, and with the building of the railway via Seymour Narrows great quantities of fish, lumber, etc., will be shipped to the prairies and other eastern points from Port Hardy. Some of the most astute investors have lately invested such amounts as $20,000; $4,500; $14,000; $10,000 in Port Hardy Bay lots recently. Lots can now be bought for from $125 up, on one-third cash, balance in one and two years at 7 per cent interest. Look at the fortunes made in Vancouver real estate in a few years. The future of Port Hardy today is brighter than Vancouver was a few years ago.

CALL and get full information.

IN the vicinity of Port Hardy we have 13,000 acres; price $6.00 per acre; 3,000 acres, price $10 per acre.

FARMS—We have about 100 farms on our list, also several islands, one about 150 acres with 50 acres cultivated and buildings for only $4,000; the cheapest property on the market.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had ulcers and falling of the uterus, and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully until I began taking your medicine. It has also helped other women to whom I have recommended it."—Mrs. HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ontario.

Another Cure

Harvey Bank, N. B.—I can highly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any suffering woman. I have taken it for female weakness and painful menstruation and it cured me.—Mrs. DeVere Barbour.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

UNFAVORABLE TO HINDU WOMEN

Public Meeting Last Evening Discuss Admission of Indian Wives and Negatives Resolution of Acceptance

Mr. R. W. Clarke's resolution that the Dominion government be petitioned to allow the Hindus at present in this province to bring in their wives and families was negatived by a large majority at a well attended public meeting last night at the Friends' Hall. Comparatively little time was devoted to discussion of the specific object of the motion, most of the speakers digressing to the larger question of Oriental immigration, and its effect on white labor.

The very Rev. Dean Doull in opening the meeting from the chair pointed out that this was no provincial question since British Columbia was the gate through which Asiatics reached the Dominion. It was an imperial question, and they owed it to their fellow subjects of the Empire to consider their welfare. It was even more than that; it was a question between man and man, and of the fundamental rights of their brother men.

Mrs. Gordon pointed out that a man to be seen at his best must be surrounded by his wife and family. India was over-populated; the least deviation in climatic conditions caused thousands to starve; therefore, they had every reason to come here. The Hindu was desirable as a citizen; he was industrious, and law-abiding. Vast areas of the interior of the province failed to be developed owing to lack of labor. It was impossible to get sober white labor at any rate after the first pay day. White men would not stay on the farm. Why should there be any discrimination between British subjects? Both sides manipulated this subject to capture labor votes at elections. The economic view was simply selfishness. They should remember that no man was "common or unclean."

Mr. Sherk said that he was there to represent labor. There were starving white people here in this very city. Charity should begin at home. The young men were many of them condemned to lives of perpetual bachelorhood because they could not afford marriage. It followed that the girls went into offices, and displaced men at lower wages. The Oriental was here because he was cheap. His presence meant the lowering of their style of living to that of the Hindus. He would be ashamed to refer to the British working man as the former speaker had. He was the best working man in the world.

Against Exclusion

Mr. Beaumont Boggs objected to the exclusion of fellow subjects of the Empire when Doukhobors were admitted under special privileges of never bearing arms for the country of their adoption. Canada took the scum of Southern Europe as long as they were small capitalists to the extent of some fifty dollars. It was not just or moral, having admitted Hindus to bar their wives and families. Two-thirds of the crime in Montreal last year was committed by Southern Europeans, yet they may bring their wives with them.

The Rev. W. Stevenson endorsed all Mrs. Gordon's principles, but could not adopt her inferences. If sentiment was to settle the question it was settled already. Let them beware in their zeal for justice to the Hindu that they did not do their white brother an injustice. The Hindu wife was not excluded; she had to show the possession of $200.

Mr. Hall—"Indians must travel on a through continuous ticket, which no steamship company issues." The Rev. Mr. Stevenson, continuing, contended that Canada like any other part of the Empire had a right to say who should or should not come in. Thousands of Englishmen had been deported from Halifax as undesirables. They did not want polygamy in their midst. The Chinese were practising it already. The Chinese bought and sold children in this city.

Dr. Donald claimed to speak with some knowledge of the Sikh as he had been medical officer to a Sikh regiment, and they were magnificent soldiers, who had served well all over the world. There was no doubt that it was impossible to obtain a continuous passage from India.

Mr. Martin said there was no doubt that the Hindu was brought in to bring down the price of labor.

Possible Results of Admission

Mr. Frank Andrews only desired not to hand down to descendants a gigantic problem such as the United States has to face in their Southern States, a problem which staggered the wit of man to solve. Let the wives in, and in a few years no one could tell the results. Either Japan or China, if emigration was unrestricted, would flood the country. They all knew of the high wages paid here, and would all try to come. White peoples' children, of whatever race could be put through the schools, and made into Canadians; not so with the Hindus or other Asiatics.

Mr. F. Webb considered that by passing this resolution they would be endorsing polygamy in their midst. Besides they had no right to split up Hindu family life and leave one wife in India and bring another one here. That was not morality.

Mr. H. Hall reminded his audience that socialism admitted no bar of color. All Socialists of whatever race were brothers and their wives their sisters.

The Rev. W. Stevenson at the close pleaded for justice to the white brother in the land. His standard of living was the evolution of 2,000 years. He could not be expected to lower it to that of the Asiatic.

After the vote which emphatically negatived the resolution, Mr. R. W. Clarke moved a vote of thanks to the chairman, and the meeting then closed.

Merritt has obtained a $15,000 federal appropriation for the erection of a new post office and custom house.

WHAT THE WORLD'S PRESS IS SAYING

British Columbia Knows

Ontario, however, should bear in mind that British Columbia knows more about Asiatic immigration than people over here can tell her.—Toronto Star.

Abdication of a Dynasty

Something new out of the East. Has history any record of a dynasty effacing itself as the Manchus have done in China? Occasionally individual western Monarchs have abdicated, but there was usually some Prince left to claim the vacant throne. In China it is a dynasty that abdicates.—Toronto Globe.

What It Would Mean

Give Germany command of the sea; and the United States must take its orders from Berlin. Even the Panama Canal would be held by German permission. The German frontiers would be at the three mile limit off the coasts of the United States; and a German army could be landed at New York with the greatest safety and ease. Naturally, the Americans do not desire to substitute German for British ascendancy at sea; and we would hear much more of this feeling if it were not for the large German vote in the United States, in fear of which her public men must go dumb.—Montreal Star.

English Pessimism

The average Englishman is not an optimist. He generally looks on the dark side of things, and his newspapers are filled with gloomy articles about trade depression and accounts of suicides which are ascribed to the dearth of employment. The British are not a sunny-natured race; their prevalent fogs and long, dreary winters have probably a good deal to do with making their life outlook a pessimistic one—Bangkok Times.

Industrialism

Undoubtedly it is industrialism that is responsible for the Condition of England today. Responsible for much of her wealth, but also for most of her misery; responsible for her army of keen and capable business men, but also for her legions of starving unemployed; responsible for the enormous growth of her big cities, but also for the depopulation of her countryside; responsible for the tremendous development of mechanical processes, but also for turning men and women into machines, into automata subject to clockwork regulations and iron laws. —London Standard.

On the Eve of Triumph

Mr. Bonar Law appears to be infusing new hope and energy into the Unionist party in England. His speech at the Albert hall was a model of eloquence and aggressiveness. The Unionist party has come out squarely in opposition to Home Rule, and already there are proofs that with the most energetic leader at their head since the days of Joseph Chamberlain, the Unionists will oust the present government before the end of the year. Meantime it is interesting to note that the Canadian leader and his Canadian lieutenant, Sir Max Aitken, are engaged in framing a tariff reform bill.—Ottawa Citizen.

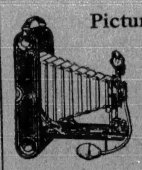

Necessary Legislation

Canada's murder figure is altogether too high, although it is encouraging to note that in several years there has been no large increase. A recent American comment by a United States judge is that not one crime in a hundred is premeditated; that over ninety-nine per cent. of killing are the result of the coincidence of the anger, the victim and the weapon. This indeed seems to be the case in Canada; were weapons less easy of access to the unbalanced and the criminal, murder and attempted murder would become considerably less than it is. And this matter is one that Canada is beginning to legislate upon, although much still remains to be done. —Ottawa Journal.

Mrs. Jane Bolton, a pioneer of Nanaimo, is dead at the age of seventy-seven.

A man named Field was arrested at Vernon last week for bringing into British Columbia horses with unregistered brands. Later inquiry elicited that he had been wanted in Alberta for four years for horse stealing.

H. Rider Haggard's Book for 1912

A book that will top the "Honor Roll" as the world's best seller this year.

Rider Haggard—the man who deals in the uncanny and mysterious—has climaxed every book he has written by "Marie"—the story of Allan Quatermain's early life and love.

Some critics say that "She"—the strangest being an author ever portrayed—will always remain Rider Haggard's best production, but—other critics as competent and far-seeing, declare that "Marie" shows the famous author at his best.

"NO OTHER MEDICINE TO EQUAL MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP"

"Your Syrup has come providentially to lengthen my days. There is no other medicine to equal Mother Seigel's Syrup."

So says one man who during the time of his suffering lost courage as well as strength. But Mother Seigel's Syrup has proved its friend indeed and cured him of chronic indigestion.

Just what this dreadful complaint may mean is made clear by Mr. Ramin T. Sampson, of L'Ardoise East, Richmond Co., N.S., whose letter shows how indigestion can take all sunshine out of life. But the same letter also shows just as clearly that Mother Seigel's Syrup in curing Indigestion, restores good health and brings with it a return of hope and courage.

"About the middle of last October," he writes "I was violently and suddenly struck down by illness. It took me with vomiting. I could not take food of any kind. My appetite was gone and so was my strength and courage. I could not get out of bed and I was in that state for three weeks or more. I thought my days were running short, and so they were but a good friend advised me to take Mother Seigel's Syrup and so I did. To my real surprise before I had used one bottle of Syrup I was relieved from vomiting and diarrhoea, my appetite sharpened up, and by the time I had taken one bottle of Syrup I could walk around and do a little work.

"It seems to me that your Syrup has come providentially to lengthen my days on earth, for every other medicine I used took no effect. There is no other medicine to equal Mother Seigel's Syrup."

FORD

FORD MODEL T TORPEDO

With Complete Equipment:
Extension Top. Speedometer.
Ford Magneto built into the Motor.
Automatic Brass Windshield.
Two 6-inch Gas Lamps. Generator.
Three Oil Lamps. Horn and Tools.

When you buy an automobile get all that belongs with it. Don't Pay enough for a "fully equipped" car only to find that a Top will cost you $75 extra; a Speedometer $25 extra; a Magneto another $75 or thereabouts; a Windshield still another $25, and so on until you are "in" or "out" about $200 more than you expected to pay for the car you saw advertised or read about in the catalog.

The beauty of Purchasing a FORD, aside from the high standard of excellence in that Vanadium Steel marvel, is that it comes "fully equipped"—the Car without "Extras"

There is no hokus-pokus about a FORD deal. You pay the regular advertised price and you get a whole automobile—not pieces of one. The net saving to you on Equipment alone is, at the lowest, 12½% of your entire investment. You can bank this saving.

What a satisfaction the FORD plan is! Price mentioned just once. For example, when you are buying that snappy 4-cylinder FORD Model T Torpedo, the salesman tells you it will cost you $775 complete—no extras; when you buy a FORD F. O. B. Walkerville and there is no time spent in haggling over the equipment that today should be a part of every car. There are no misunderstandings.

You just fill 'er up with gasoline and oil and drive away in a happy state of mind, with the positive assurance that you have received the greatest automobile value in the world.

Of course, FORD gives you a double advantage by purchase in such enormous quantities that the price is the lowest possible. FORD carries all that financial load for FORD buyers, and the equipment for your FORD car comes to you all paid. Immediate delivery.

In addition to the Ford Model T Torpedo, we offer for prompt delivery the following models:

FORD Model T Touring Car, 5 passengers, Completely Equipped, F. O. B. Walkerville, Ont., $850

FORD Model T Delivery Car, capacity 750 pounds merchandise, Completely Equipped, F. O. B. Walkerville, Ont., $875

FORD Model T Commercial Roadster, 2 passengers, removable rumble seat, Completely Equipped, F. O. B. Walkerville, Ont., $775

FORD Model T (Landaulet) Town Car, 6 passengers, Completely Equipped, F. O. B. Walkerville, Ont., $1100

NO FORD CAR SOLD UNEQUIPPED

Allow us to give you a demonstration. Take a ride and know for yourself how smooth Model T runs and how easy it is to operate and control. Catalogues and other new literature descriptive of Ford Cars on request. Call, write or telephone.

USUAL LEADERS IN BACKGROUND

Hill Issues and St. Paul Principal Mediums of Speculation—Increase in Railway Earnings Has Influence

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Stocks usually designated as leaders which are the mediums for the bulk of speculation were retired to a background today. The Hill stocks and St. Paul were the only leading issues which broke away. The bear faction seemed to have become convinced that little impression could be made in the list, as the undertone was firmer.

Aside from the Hill issues and St. Paul, the strongest railroad stocks were in the Southern list.

The heavy decrease in the supply of surplus copper stocks reported in yesterday's monthly statement imparted a decided firmer tone to the copper metal markets, both here and abroad, but the copper stocks made no response to this tendency being influenced by profit-taking sales following yesterday's advance. An improvement in railroad earnings was indicated by the latest figures of gross returns. The receipts of 28 railroads for the fourth week of January showed an increase of 13 per cent.

Sterling exchange advanced, and no more gold was engaged for Paris. A small shipment was arranged for Porto Rico, and indications pointed to larger withdrawals for South American points. The exportation of gold was partially offset by gains from the interior, known movements of currency for the week suggesting a loss of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

Trading on the bond market was lighter. Total sales, par value, $2,525,000. U. S. 2's, registered advanced ½ and coupons ¾ on call.

Money Rates.
